

37 December

(1920)

Folgore da San Geminiano from Rossetti's - "Early Italian Poets"

Allegro con spirito

Last, for De-cem-ber, houses on the plain, ground floor to live in, logs heap'd moun-tain high, car - pets stretch'd

(Roughly and in a half spoken way)

f marcato sempre l.h.

2

and new-est game to try, tor-ches lit, and gifts from man to man, Your host — a drunk - ard and a Cat-a-lan;

4

And — whole dead pigs, and cun-ning cooks to ply each — throat with tit - bits — that sat - is -

Measures may be marked off to suit the taste.

- fyl; And winebutts of St. Gal - ga-nus' brave span. And be your coats well lined and tight-ly bound, and wrap your-selves in cloaks of strength and weight,

With gal - lanthoods to put your fa - ces through. And make your game of ab-ject va-ga-bond, ab-an-don'd mis-er-a-ble rep-ro-bate mi - sers; don't let them have a chance with you!

più ten.

Fist