114 Songs
By Charles E. Ives

Index

No.	Page		Author
1	1	Majority
2	6	Evening	Milton
3	8	The Last Reader	Oliver Wendell Holmes
4	10	At Sea	Robert Underwood Johnson
5	11	Immortality
6	13	The New River
7	15	Disclosure
8	16	The Rainbow (So may it be!)	Wordsworth
9	18	Two Slants (Christian and Pagan)	Emerson & Manlius
10	19	Charlie Rutlage	(Cowboy Songs)
11	23	Lincoln, The Great Commoner (From)	Markham
12	27	Remembrance
13	28	Resolution
14	29	The Indians	Charles Sprague
15	31	The Housatonic At Stockbridge (From)	Robert Underwood Johnson
16	36	Religion	(Bixby [quot.])
17	37	Grantchester	Rupert Brooke
18	40	Incantation	Bryon
19	43	The Greatest Man	Anne Collins
20	47	Hymn	(Shutter [quot.])
21	49	Luck and Work	Robert Underwood Johnson
22	50	“Nov. 2, 1920"
23	56	Maple Leaves	Thomas Bailey Aldrich
24	57	Premonitions	Robert Underwood Johnson
25	59	Ann Street	Maurice Morris
26	61	Like A Sick Eagle	Keats
27	62	The Swimmers (From)	Louis Untermeyer
28	68	On The Counter
29	69	The See'r
30	71	From "Paracelsus"	Browning
31	74	Walt Whitman	Whitman
32	76	The Side Show
33	77	Cradle Song	A. L. Ives
34	77	La Fede	Ariosto
35	78	August	Geminiano
36	81	September — From Early Italian Poets	(Rossetti)
37	83	December

38	85	The Collection		(Stanzas from old Hyms)
39	86	Afterglow		James Fenimore Cooper, Jr.
49	87	The Innate
41	88	"1, 2, 3"
42	89	Serenity		Whittier
43	91	The Things Our Fathers Loved . . .
44	93	Watchman	4 Songs based on	Browning
45	95	At The River	Hymntune Themes	Lowry
46	97	His Exaltation		Robinson
47	99	The Camp-Meeting.		Elliot
48	103	Thoreau
49	104	In Flanders Fields	. . . . .	Col. McCrae
50	107	He Is There!	3 Songs of the War
51	112	Tom Sails Away
52	115	Old Home Day
53	119	In The Alley
54	122	A Son Of A Gambolier	. . . .	(Traditional)
55	126	Down East
56	128	The Circus Band
57	131	Mists
58	133	Evidence
59	135	Tolerance		(Quotation)
60	136	Autumn
61	138	Nature's Way
62	139	The Waiting Soul		Cowper
63	142	Those Evening Bells		Moore
64	144	The Cage
65	145	Spring Song
66	147	The Light That Is Felt		Whittier
67	149	Walking
68	153	Ilmenau		Goethe
69	155	Rough Wind		Shelly
70	158	Mirage		Rossetti
71	159	There Is A Lane
72	160	Tarrant Moss		Kipling
73	161	Harpalus		Percy’s Reliques
74	163	The Children's Hour (From) . . .		Longfellow
75	166	I Traveled Among Unknown Men . . .		Wordsworth

76	168	Qu'il M'irait Bien	4 French Songs	(Author Unknown)
77	171	Elegie		Gallet
78	174	Chanson De Florian		de Florian
79	178	Rosamunde		Bélanger
80	180	Wiel' Auf Mir	4 German Songs	Lenau
81	183	The Old Mother		Vinje
82	186	In Summerfields		Almers
83	190	Ich Grolle Nicht		Heine
84	193	Night Of Frost In May (From)		Meredith
85	195	Dreams	8 Sentimental Ballads	Porteous
86	197	Omens And Oracles		(Unkniwn to Composer)
87	202	An Old Flame
88	204	A Night Song		Moore
89	206	A Song For Anything		(Various)
90	207	The World's Highway
91	210	Karen		(Unknown to Composer)
92	212	Marie		Gottschall
93	214	Berceuse
94	215	Where The Eagle		Turnbull
95	216	Allegro
96	219	Romanzo (di Central Park)		Leigh Hunt
97	221	The South Wind
98	224	Naught That Country	From a Cantata	Alford
99	228	Forward Into Light		St. Bernard
100	234	A Christmas Carol		(Traditional)
101	235	My Native Land		(Traditional)
102	236	Memories
103	240	The White Gulls		Maurice Morris
104	242	Two Little Flowers
105	244	West London (A Sonnet)		Matthew Arnold
106	247	Amphion		Tennyson
107	249	A Night Thought		Moore
108	250	Songs My Mother Taught Me		Heyduk
109	252	Waltz
110	253	The World's Wanderers		Shelly
111	254	Canon		Moore
112	256	To Edith
113	257	When Stars Are In The Quiet Skies		Bulwer-Lytton
114	259	Slow March

1 Majority

(1921)

* Preferably for a unison chorus; it is almost impossible for a single voice to hold the part against the score.

In this and in some of the following songs, all ntoes are natural unless otherwise marked, except those immediately following an accidental— natural signs are thus used more as a convenience than of necessity

Moderately, with an even rhythm
mf World!
The
l.h.
mp
Mas - ses are sing - - ing, are sing - ing, sing - - ing, Whence comes the Art of the World! The Mas - ses are yearn - ing, are
r.h.
l.h.
slower
ff
p Slowly

ten.
yearn - ing, are yearn - ing. Whence comes the f hope of the World.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
pp
The Mas - ses are
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
pp
pp dream - - ing, dream - - ing, The Mas - ses are
l.h.

dream-ing, Whence comes the vi - sions of God!
l.h.
r.h.
ff God's in His largemente
Heaven, All will be well with the World!
fff
sf
p

2 Evening

(1921)

Milton
From "Paradise Lost"

10
a little faster
these to their nests were slunk, but the wake - ful night - in - più moto 12
-gale; She all night long, all night long her a - mor-ous des -
l.h.
15
ppp slower
- cantsung; Si - lence is pleased:.....
ten.
l.h.
ten.
rit.
8 morendo

3
The Last Reader

(1921)

Oliver Wendell Holmes

11
They lie up-on my path-way bleak, Those flowers that once ran wild, As ten.
15 p Slower but evenly on a fa - ther's care - worn cheek The ring - lets of his
pp
9 10 18 child; The gold - en ming - ling with the gray, and
l.h.
r.h.
pp
8 21
steal - ing half its snows a - way.
morendo
ppp

4
At Sea

Robert Underwood Johnson

from Mr. Johnson's book of "Poems"*
dedicated to Richard Watson Gilder Century Co. N. Y.

(1921)

* The verses by the same author, to songs 15, 21, 24, are also taken from the above book.

5 Immortality

(1921)

8 più agitando win - ter's sun - set snow! Who dares to say our f (faster and in a gradually excied way) 11
p (slow-child is dead! Who dares to say our child is dead! If
l.h.
cresc.
rit.
pp
3 14
ly) quietly but firmly
God had meant she were to die, She would not have been.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
più rit.

6
The New River

(1921)

8 3 roll - ing wa - ters. It's on - ly thesounds of man, 10 phon - o-graphs and gas - o - line, dan - cinghalls and tam - bour-ine; 12 Killed is the blare of the hunt-inghorn The
pp 15 p
slowly
Ri - ver Gods are gone.
pp
fast again
ff

7 Disclosure

(1921)

8
So may it be!

(1921)

Wordsworth

10
p
So be it when I shall grow old, or let me die! The p
p 13 tranquilly
child is fath - er of the man; And I could wish my days
p
l.h.
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
l.h.
15
To be bound each to each by nat - ural pi - e - ty.
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
r.h.
r.h.
l.h.
pp
r.h.
l.h.

9

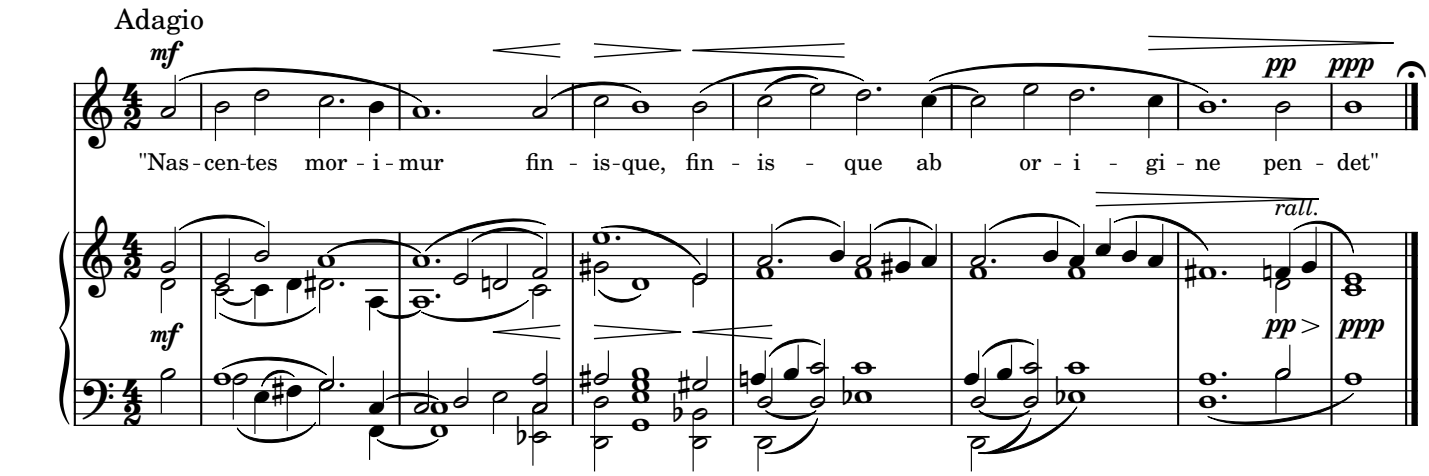

a) Duty

(1921) Emerson

b) Vita

(1921) Manilius

10
Charlie Rutlage

*(from Cowboy Songs)

Charles Ives

*Cowboy Songs and other Frontier Ballads Collected by John A. Lomax, M.A. (University of Texas) The Macmillan Co. N.Y.

15
p brave, While Char-lie Rut-lage makes the third to be sent to his grave, Caused
p 21 f faster (half spoken)
recite - following the piano by a cow-horse fall-ing while run-ning af - ter stock; 'Twas on the spring round up, A faster
f (octs. ad lib.)
24 (hold back) ff fast place where death men mock, He went for - ward one morn - ing on a (hold back here)
fast
ff 26 cir - cle through the hills, He was gay and full of glee, and 8
3

28 free from earth - ly ills; But when it came to fin - ish up the 8
3 30
(a little slower)
(fast again)
work on which he went, Noth-ing came back from him; his time on earth was spent. 'Twas 3 (a little slower)
(fast again)
33
ff
as he rode the round up, a XIT turned back to the herd; Poor Char-lie shoved hiim in a - gain, his
ff
faster and faster, louder and louder 36 faster and faster
fff
louder and louder
cut - ting horse he spurred; An - oth - er turned; at that mo-moent his
fff

*In these measures the notes are indicated only approximately; the time of course, in the main point.

11 from "Lincoln, the Great Commoner"

The storm and stress of life!
The curse of war and strife!
The harsh vindictiveness of men!
The cuts of sword and pen!
What needed to be borne_he bore!
What needed to be fought_he fought!
But in his soul, he stood the up as_naught!
(C.E.I.)

(1921)

Edwin Markham

(by permission of the author, and of Doubleday, Page & Co. N.Y.)

One fair i - deal led out chief - tain on,.....
tr
.....He built the rail pile as he build__ the State,.....
3
f
The con - science test - ing__ ev - ery stroke, to make his deed the mea - sure of the man.....
f
ff
.....So
l.h.
ff

* Play with fists.

Held on thro' blame and_ fal - tered not at praise, and when he fell majestically
in_____ whirl - wind, he went down as when a King - ly ce - dar
rit.
ff (a little slower)
green with boughs goes down with a great shout, up - on the hills!
fff
(pp) fff

12

"The music in my heart I bore Long after it was heard no more."
Wordsworth.

Charles Ives

13 Resolution

(1921)

14
The Indians

(1921)

Charles Sprague

11
pp rings through their woods, The pale man's sail skims o'er their floods; Be - ff
più rit.
pp 14
-yond the moun - tains of the west
l.h.
l.h.
18
ppp
Their chil-dren go to die.
pp
ppp

15
The Housatonic at Stockbridge

(1921)

Robert Underwood Johnson

*NOTE: The small notes in the right hand may be omitted, but if played should be scarcely audible. This song was originally written as a movement in a set of pieces for orchestra, in which it was inteded that the upper strings, muted, be listened to separately or sub-conciously as a kind of distan background of mists seen through the trees or over a river valley, their parts bearing little or no relation to the tonality, etc. of the tune. It is difficult to reproduce this effect with piano.

12 plu - my elm:.....
.....Thou
ppp
mf
l.h.
r.h.
pp
f
pp
rit.
mp
15 beau - ti - ful!
From ev - 'ry dream - - y hill what
mp
pp a tempo.
ppp 18 eye but wan - ders with thee at thy will,.....

20
mp
.....Con - ten - ted ri - ver!
pppp
mp
23
And yet o - ver-shy to mask thy beau - ty from the ea - ger eye; 26
3 Hast thou a thought to hide from field and town? In some deep
pp

29
cur - rent of the sun - lit brown.....
pp
mf
31
a little faster
.....Ah! there's a res - tive rip-ple, and theswift red leaves Sept - em - ber's in a gr adually animated way 33
mf
3 first-lingsfast - er drift;..... Wouldst thou a - way,dearstream? Come, whis-pernear! I al - so of much
f
cresc.

36 rest - ing have a fear: Let me to
ff 38 mor - - row thy com - pan - - ion be, By 39 fall and shal - low to thead-ven-tur-ous sea!
fff non decresc.
r.h.
l.h.
fff
ppp
very slowly più
ten.
forte Ped.
Piano

16 Religion

(1920)

Quotation from Dr. James T. Bixby's "Modern Dogmatism" in his "Essays" - "The New World," etc.
(Thos. Whittaker. N.Y.)

*

"The Shining Shore" - Geo F. Root

17 Grantchester

(with a quotation from Debussy)

Rupert Brooke
from the Collected Poems of Rupert Brooke
by the courtesy of John Lane Co. N.Y.

(1920)

*("l'Après-midi d'un Faune." Claude Debussy) By courtesy and special authorization of the publisher: Jean Jobery, Paris, 44 Rue du Colisèe

10 p lento con grazia
I on - ly know that you may lie day long and watch the
l.h.
p
r. h.
rit.
12
3
Cam - bridge sky, and, flower lulled in sleep-y grass, hear the cool lapse of hours pass, un - til the 13
pp
ppp
cen - tur-ies blend and blur in Grant-ches-ter, in Grant-ches-ter.....
ppp
l.h.
l.h.
ppp
l.h.
pp decresc. e ritard.

18 from the “Incantation”

(1921)

Byron

NOTE: Both pedals are used almost constantly.

9
più moto
And the wisp on the mo - rass; When faster 12
the fall - - ing stars are shoot - - ing, 14 and the an - - swered owls are hoot - - ing,

16 meno mosso
p
and the si - lent leaves are still,
pp
slower 18 In the sha - dow of the hill,
slower
f Shall my soul be slower
f 21
up - on thine,
with a power and with a sign.
pp
f ppp
ppp

19
The Greatest Man

Anne Collins
(In the Evening Sun N.Y. 1921)
(by permission)

(1921)

8
f
più ten.
ain't a he - ro 'r an - y - thing but pshaw! Say! He can ride the
f
più ten.
(a little faster)
11 wild - est hoss 'n find min - ners near the moss down by the creek; 'n 13 he can swim 'n fish, we ketched five new lights, me 'n him!
p
tr

17
f Dad's some hun - ter too Oh, my! Miss Mol - ly cot - ton - tail sure does fly
f faster 20
p
When he tromps through the fields 'n brush! (Dad won't kill a lark 'r thrush.)
slower
p 24
f Once when I was sick 'n though his hands were rough he rubbed the pain right out. "That's the
più rit.
a tempo
più rit.
a tempo
f

27 stuff!" he said when I winked back the tears. He nev - er cried but once 'n that was p rall. e
pp
p rall. e 30 decresc.
3 when my moth - er died There're lots o' great men George Wash - int -
a tempo
mf
decresc.
mf
a tempo
mf
32
-ton 'n Lee, but Dad's got 'em all beat hol - ler, seems to me!
ff
p ff
p

20
Hymn

Dr. Collyer recalls an interesting passage between Ralph Waldo Emerson and Oliver Wendell Holmes. The latter said that many of the hymns in use were mere pieces of cabinet work. Then his voice deepened and his eyes shone, as they did in his noblest moments, and he said, "One hymn I think supreme." Emerson threw back his head and waited, while Dr. Holmes repeated the text of the following song. Emerson responded: "I know that is the supreme hymn. 'I shall be satisfied when I awake in Thy likeness.'" quoted from Prof. Shutter's Chapter "The God of Evolution" in his essays "Applied Evolution." Universalist Pub. Co.

(1921)

14
pp far Thy beau-teous light Thy beau-teous light; In - ly I cresc. piu animando
pp 17 sigh for Thy re - pose. My heart is pained, nor 20 can it be at rest till it 23 sustain ad lib.
find rest in Thee.
pp
mp

21 Luck and Work

(1920)

Robert Underwood Johnson

*NOTE: The notes for the right hand in the first four measures may be omitted and octave with and above the left hand may be played.

22

Nov. 2, 1920

Soliloquy of an old man whose son lies in "Flanders Fields"
It is the day after the election; he is sitting by the roadside,
(1921) Looking down the valley towards the station.

(half spoken)

mp più ten slower and slower died that bet - ter things might be! Per-haps some who stayed at f p mf gradually slower home are be - gin-ning to for - get and to quit. The

pp pp

mp faster

pock - et - book and cer-tain lit - tle things talked loud and no - ble, And

In a weak and tiresome way mp faster f f

got in the way; Too man - y rea - ders go by the head-lines, par - ty men will

r.h.

mu - dle up the facts, So a good man - y ci - ti - zens vo - ted as grand - pa al - ways did, or thought a change for the sake of change seemed nat - ur - al e - nough. 'It's rain - ing lets throw out the weath - er man,

Kick him out! Kick him out! Kick him out! Kick him out! kick him!'
Pre - ju-dice and pol - i - tics, and the stand-pat-ters came in strong, and yelled, 'Slide back! Now you're
f
tr
safe, that's the ea - sy way!' Then the tim - - - id
mf

smiled and looked re-lieved,
'We've got e-nough to eat, to
f
f
ff
hell with i - deals!'
ff
mp
All the old wo-men, male and fe-male,
mf
heavily
had their day to - day, and the hog - heart came out of his hole;
(a weak cheer)
r.h.
l.h.
3

Note: The assumption, in the text, that the result of our national election in 1920, was a definite indication, that the country, (at least, the majority-mind) turned its back on a high purpose is not conclusive. Unfortunately election returns coming through the present party system prove nothing conclusively. The voice of the people sounding through the mouth of the parties, becomes somewhat emasculated. It is not inconceivable that practical ways may be found for more accurately registering and expressing popular thought— at least, in relation to the larger primary problems, which concern us all. A suggestion to this end (if we may be forgiven a further digression) in the form of a constitutional amendment together with an article discussing the plan in some detail and from various aspects, will be gladly sent, by the writer, to any one who is interested enough to write for it.
C.E.I.

23
Maple Leaves

(1920)

*Thomas Bailey Aldrich

*by courtesy of Houghton, Mifflin Co. Boston

24 Premonitions

(1921)

Robert Underwood Johnson
from Mr. Johnson's book of "Poems"*
dedicated to Richard Watson Gilder Century Co. N.Y.

mf
scarce-ly no-ted, lin - gers near the o - pen door. O - mens that were once but jest, mf
mf
mf faster
Now are mes - sen-gers of Fate; and the bless - ing held the best com-eth not or comes too late.
heavily
mp
mp
pp
pp
Yet what ev - er life may lack, not a blown leaf beck - ons back,
mf
f accel.
3
3
3 3
ff
3
fff
For - ward! For - ward! is the sum - mons. For - ward! Where new hor - i - zons wait.
f accel.
ff
fff

25
Ann Street

(1921)

Maurice Morris

by courtesy of "The New York Herald"

ff
Nar - row, yes, Ann street, But busi - ness, Both feet.
mp
r.h.
p
l.h.
ff
p slower Sun just hits Nassau crosses Ann St.
ff
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
p
Ann street, then it quits some greet! Rath - er short, Ann street...
p slowly
p

26

Like a sick eagle

(1920)

Keats

Slowly

p Very slowly, in a weak and dragging way

The spir - it is too weak; mor - tal - i -

p

-ty weighs heav - i - ly on me like un - will - ing sleep, and each i - ma - gined pin - na - cle and steep of God - like hard - ship tells me

I must die, like a sick ea - gle look - ing towards the sky.

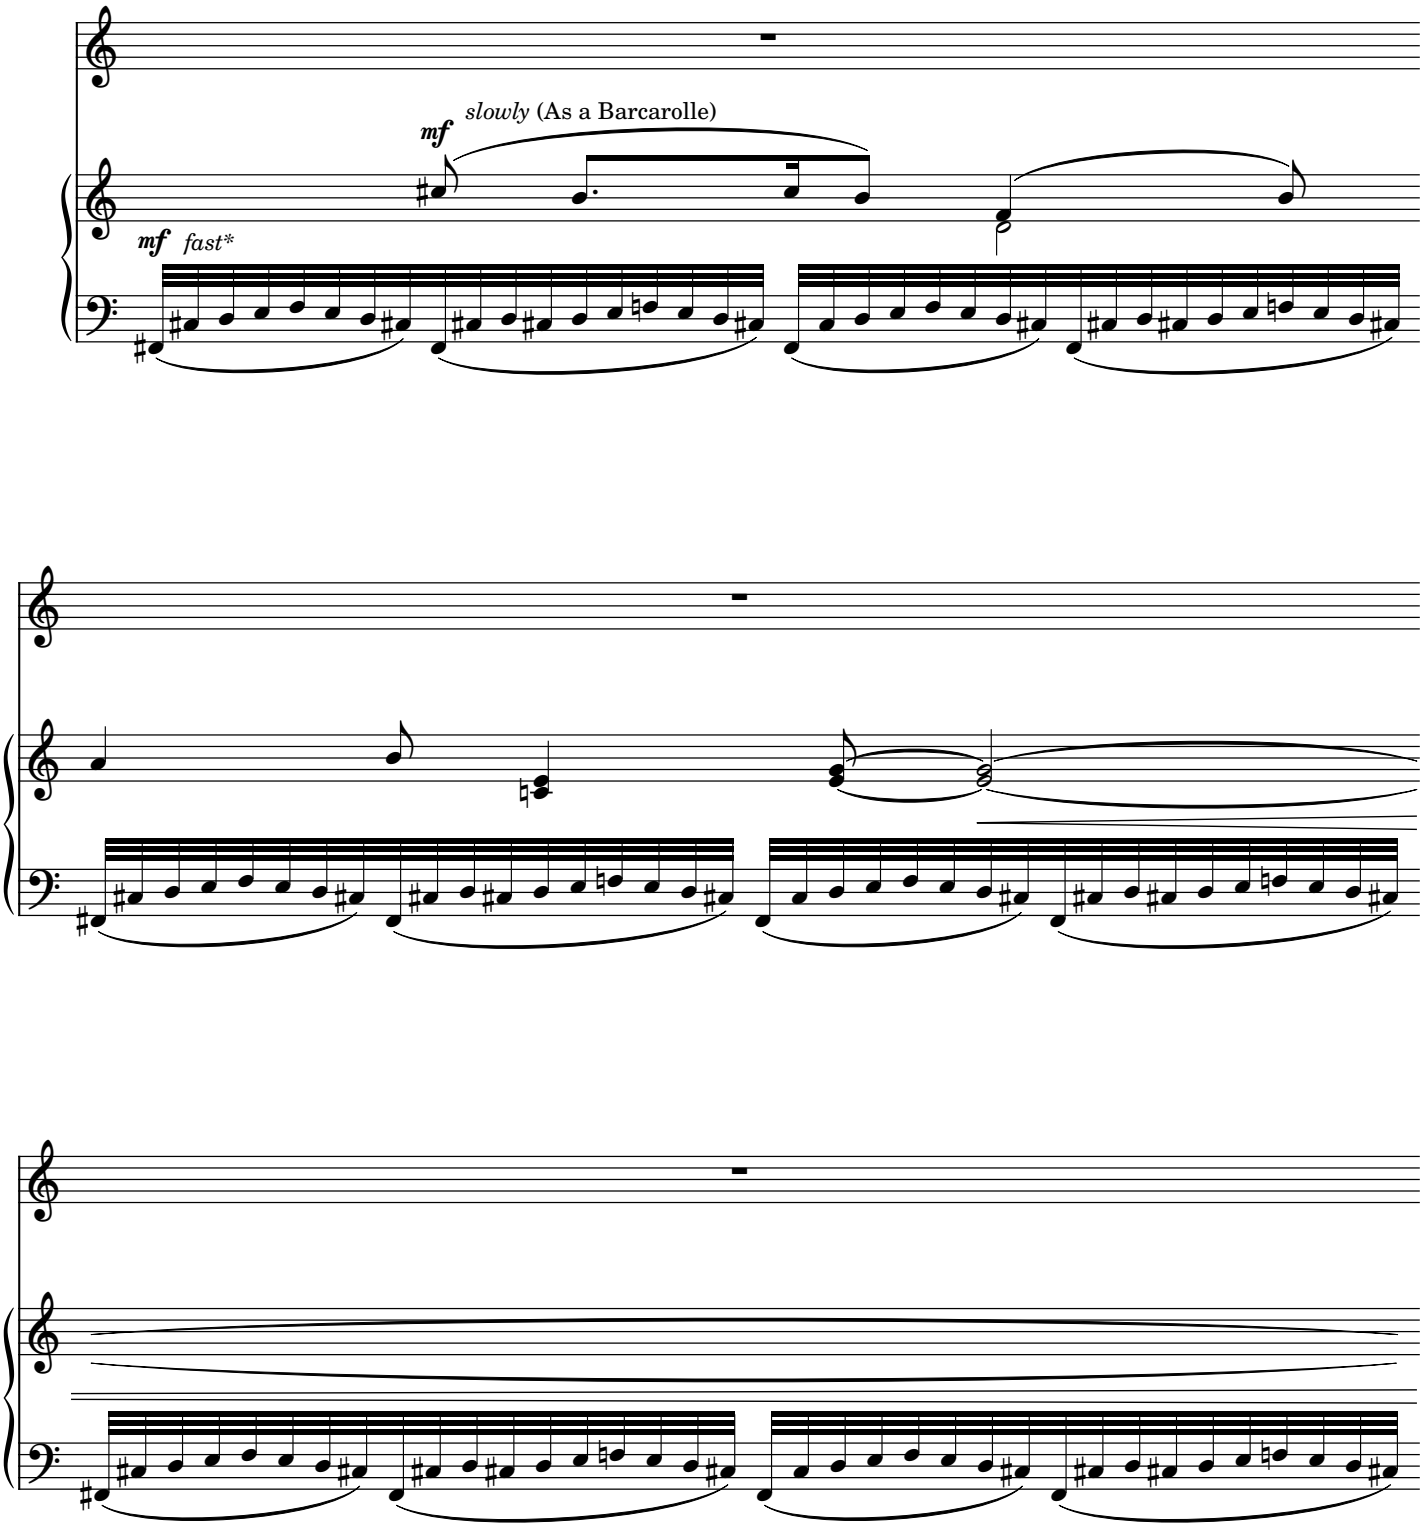

rit.

pp

27 from The Swimmers

(1921)

Louis Untermeyer
Yale Review
July 1918
(by permission)

*Until the figure changes, (2nd measure page 68) the left hand continues the phrase (prestissimo), but not necessarily the exact number of times or in the relation, to the right hand, indicated.

f
fff
.....Then the swift plunge
fast
as fast as it can be played
r.h.
l.h.
r.h.
ff
ff
in - - to the cool green dark, the win - dy wa - ters rush - ing past me, through me

somewhat slower Filled with the sense of some he - -ro - - ic lark, ex - ult - -
-ing in a vig - or clean and room - - - y.

gradually faster
3 Swift - ly I rose to meet the fe - line sea.....
.....Pit - ting a - gainst
fff
very fast again etc.
r.h. fff
r.h.

a cold tur - bu - lent strife,
r.h.
r.h.
The fe - ver-ish in - ten - si - ty of life....
Out of the foam I lurched and
slower
a little slower

rose the wave
ff
Swim-ming hand o - ver hand, o - ver hand, a - gainst the wind; I felt the sea's vain pound-ing and I grinned know-ing I was its mas - ter not its slave..... spoken
fff

28
On the Counter

(1920)

*Small notes ad lib

Note: Though there is little danger of it, it is hoped that this song will not be taken seriously, or sung, at least, in public.

29
The See'r

(1920)

19
things a go - - ing, go - - ing, go - ing, 23 go - - ing, go - ing by, go - - ing 27 by, go - ing by, go - ing by go - 32
- ing by go - ing go - ing by!
8

30 from “Paracelsus”

(1921)

Browning

10 mf with less energy
glo - ry vowed I soul and limb, Yet, con-sti - tu - ted thus, and thus en-dowed, I failed.
l.h.
l.h.
mf 13
ff
I gazed on power, I gazed on f con moto giusto
ff 14
p
power till I grew blind.....
mp slower
What won-der if I saw now way to shun des-pair? The
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
tr
pp
mp
slower

16
mf Andante molto
p power I sought seemed God's..... .....I learned my own deeper - ror; And mf
maestoso
p 18 what pro-por-tion love should hold with power in man's right con - sti-tu - tion; Al - ways pre -
l.h.
non cresc.
19
- ce - ding power, And with much power, al - ways, al - ways much more love;....
p
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
p

31
Walt Whitman

(1921)

(from 20th Stanza)

Whitman
In Leaves of Grass

9
What am I? What are you?
All i mark as my own, you shall 12 off - set it with you own; Else it were time lost a - listen - ing to gradually faster, but no decrease in volume 15
me
accel. non decresc.

32
The Side Show

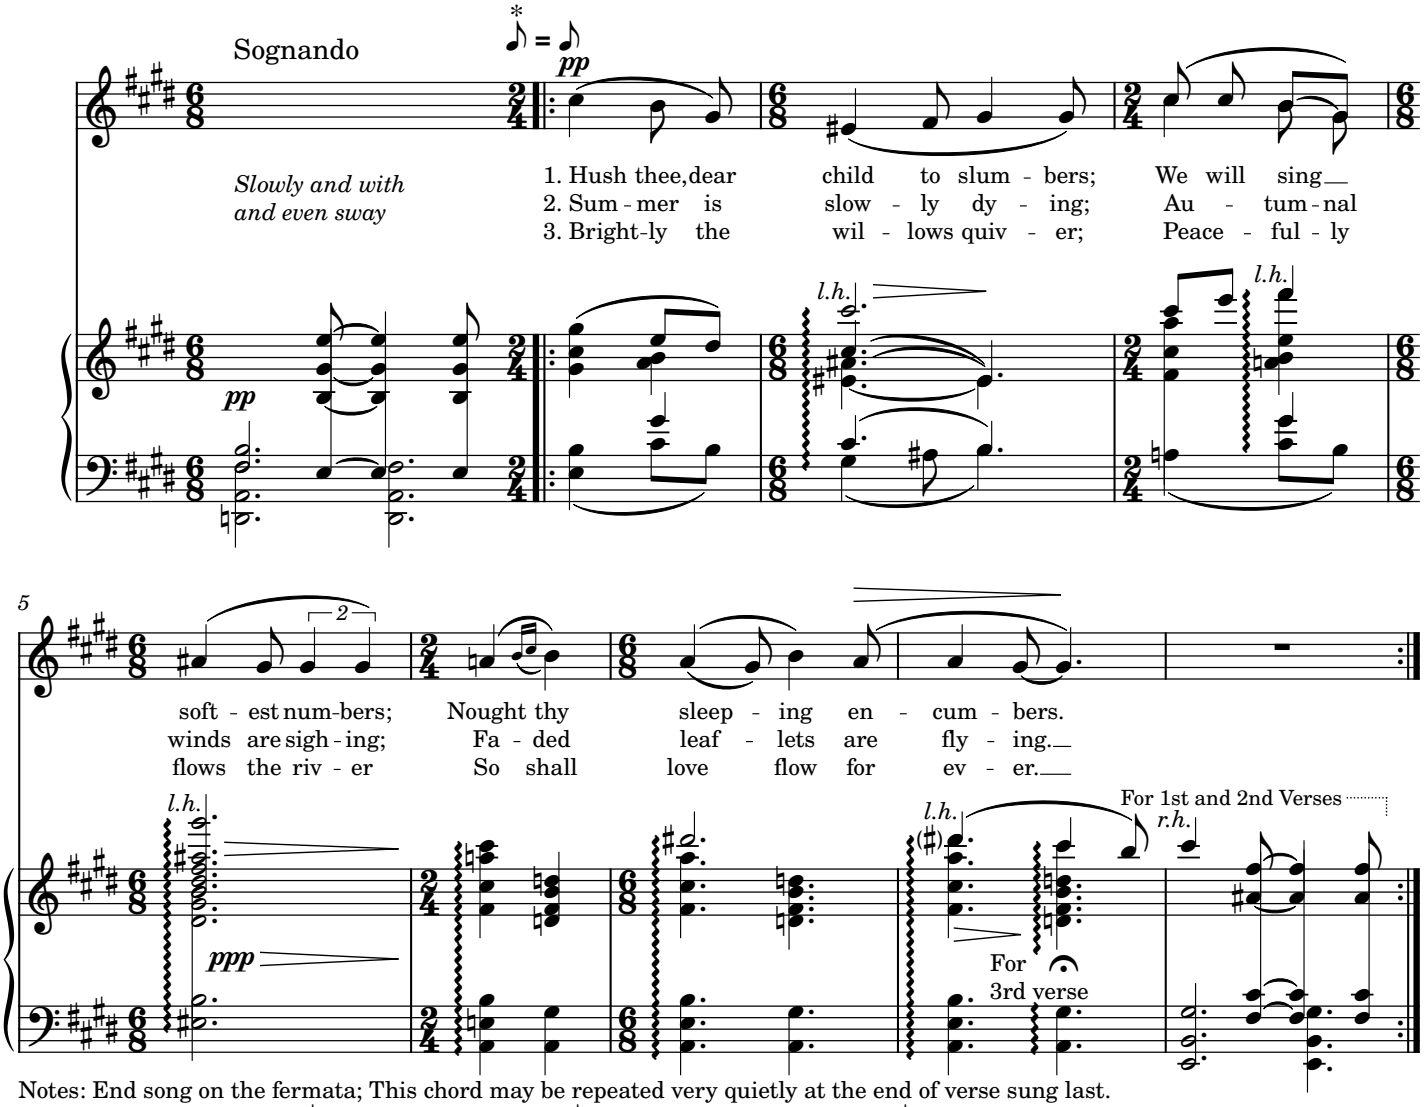

(1921)

(1919)

33
Cradle Song

A. L. Ives
(1846)

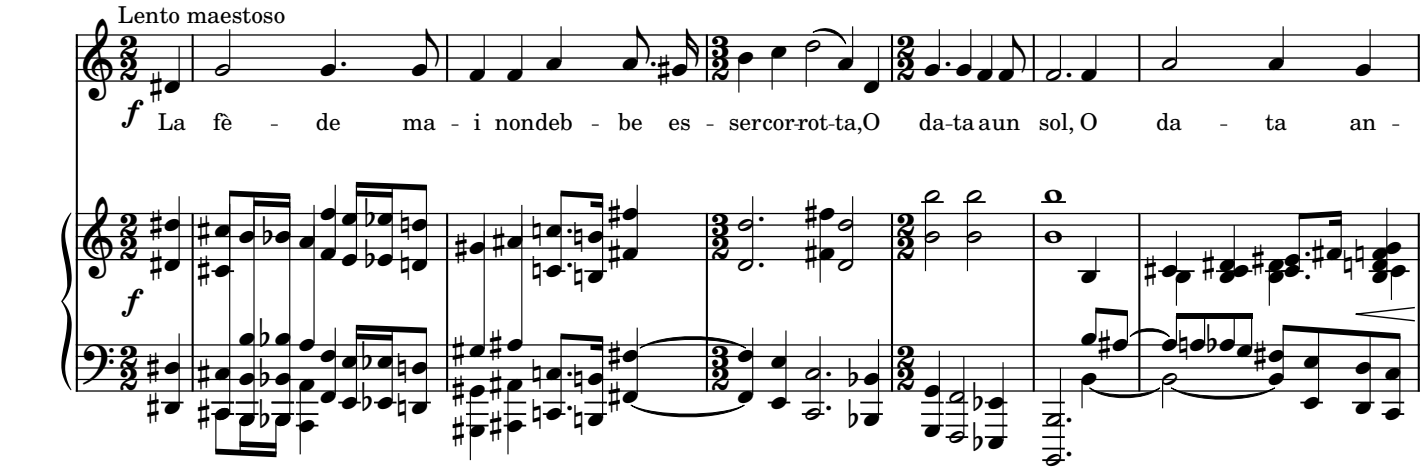

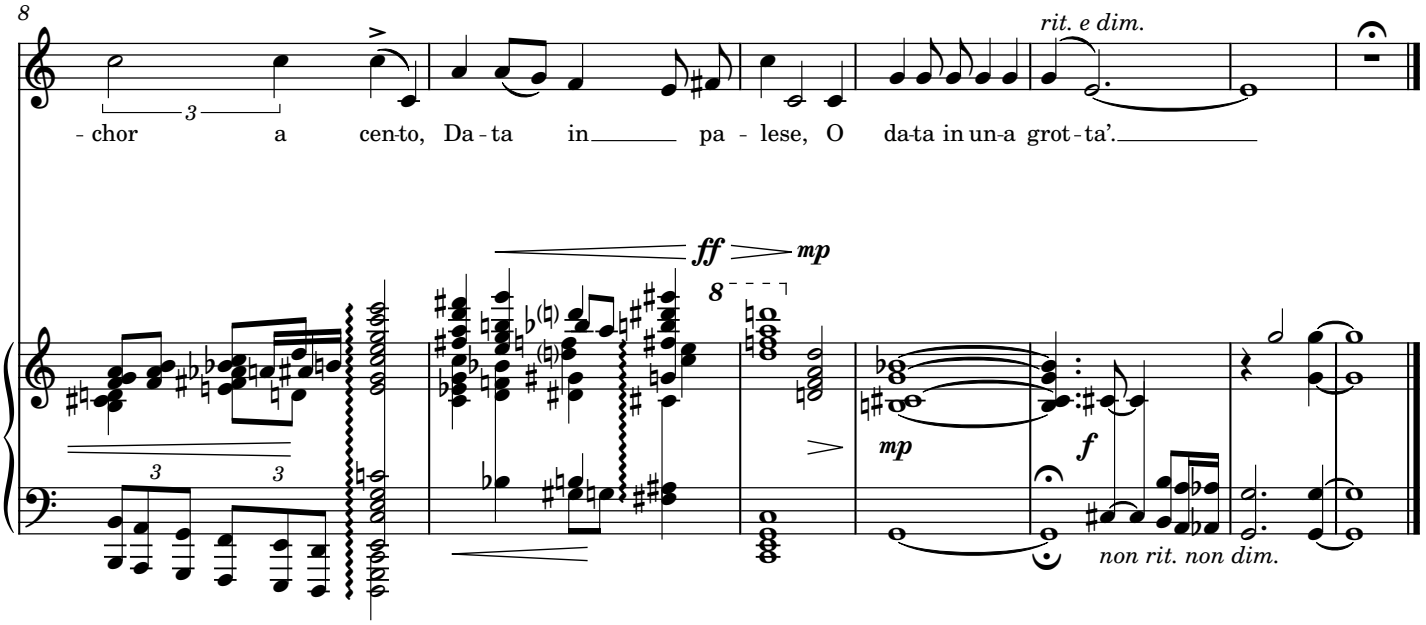

Notes: End song on the fermata; This chord may be repeated very quietly at the end of verse sung last.
*It will be observed that a ♩ of the 2/4 measure is a ♩ of the 6/8 measure and not a ♩.

34
La Fède

(1920)

Ariosto

8
rit. e dim.
- chor a cen-to, Da - ta in pa - lese, O da-ta in un-a grot - ta'.
ff
mp 8
mp
f non rit. non dim.

35 August

(1920)

Folgore da San Geminiano
from Rossetti's - "Early Italian Poets"

In this and other songs where bars mark the phrase or sections instead of measures, all notes are natural, unless otherwise marked, except those immediately following a note with an accidental. Natural sings are thus used more as a convenience, than of necessity.

vex your house but clear life sep - 'rate like a star, be yours. There Andante vivo

hor-ses shall wait sad - dled at all hours, That ye may mount at morn or at eve; On each hand ei - ther ridge ye shall per - cieve a mile a - part, which soon a good beast scours. So al - way, draw-

- ing home - - wards, ye shall tread your val - ley par-ted by a riv - u-let which day and night shall flow se - date and smooth. There all through noon ye may pos-sess the shade, and there your o - pen pur - sess shall en-treat the best of Tus - can cheer to feed your youth.
f
l.h. animando
f

(1920)

36 September

Folgore da San Geminiano
from Rossetti's "Early Italian Poets"

mf Presto

And in Sept-em - ber, Fal - cons, as - tors, mer - lins spar-row-haws; De-coy birds that lure your

Presto or as fast as possible mp

l.h. l.h.

*use both pedals throughout game in flocks; and hounds with bells;..... Cross-bows shoot-ing out of

l.h. l.h.

sight;— Ar-blasts and jav-e - lins;..... All birds the best to fly;

f

And each to each of you shall be lav - ish

mf

still in gifts; and rob - ber-y find no gain - say - ing; And if you meet with travel - lers go - ing
r.h.
l.h.
by, Their pur - ses from your pur - se's flow shall fill; and Av - ar - ice be the on - ly out - cast thing!

(1920)

37 December

Folgore da San Geminiano
from Rossetti's - "Early Italian Poets"

Measures may be marked off to suit the taste.

- fy!; And wine butts of St. Gal - ga-nus' brave span. And be your coats well lined and tight-ly bound, and wrap your-selves in cloaks of strength and weight, With gal - lant hoods to put your fa - ces through. And make your game of ab-ject
più ten.
va-ga-bond, ab-an-don'd mis - er - a - ble rep-ro - bate mi - sers; don't let them have a chance with you!
Fist Fist

38
The Collection

(1920)

In moderate time
"The Organist"

mp

Ped.

5

"The Soprano"

1. Now help us, Lord, Thy yoke to
2. O hast-en, Lord, the prom-ised

mp

10

wear, and joy to do Thy will; Each oth-er's bur - dens glad-ly bear, and love's sweet days, when all the na - tions shall re - joice; And Jew and Gen - tile join in praise, with one unlaw ful - fill, And love's sweet law ful - fill.

15

-i - ted voice! With one u - ni - ted voice!

p

"Resopnse by Village Choir."

1. And love's sweet law ful - fill
2. With one u - ni - ted voice!

mf

39 Afterglow

(1919)

James Fenimore Cooper. Jr.
(by permission)

Slowly and very quietly

ppp legato throughout

quietly, slowly and sustained throughout

pp

At the qui - et close of day, Gent - ly yet the wil-lows sway; When the sun - set light is

più ten.

l.h. pp più rit. pppp

less audibly, but no slower here

low, Lin - gers still the af - ter - glow; p Beau - ty tar-ries loth to die, Ev - decresc. non rall. l.h. r.h. pppp mp più moto pp r. h. animando

- ery light-est fan - ta-sy love - lier grows in mem - o-ry, Where the tru - er beau - ties lie.

più ten. e rall. pp

l.h. r. h. slower rall. pp ppp più ten. più rall. p

*

Note: The piano sould be played as indistinctly as possible, and both pedals used almost constantly.

40
The Innate

(1916)

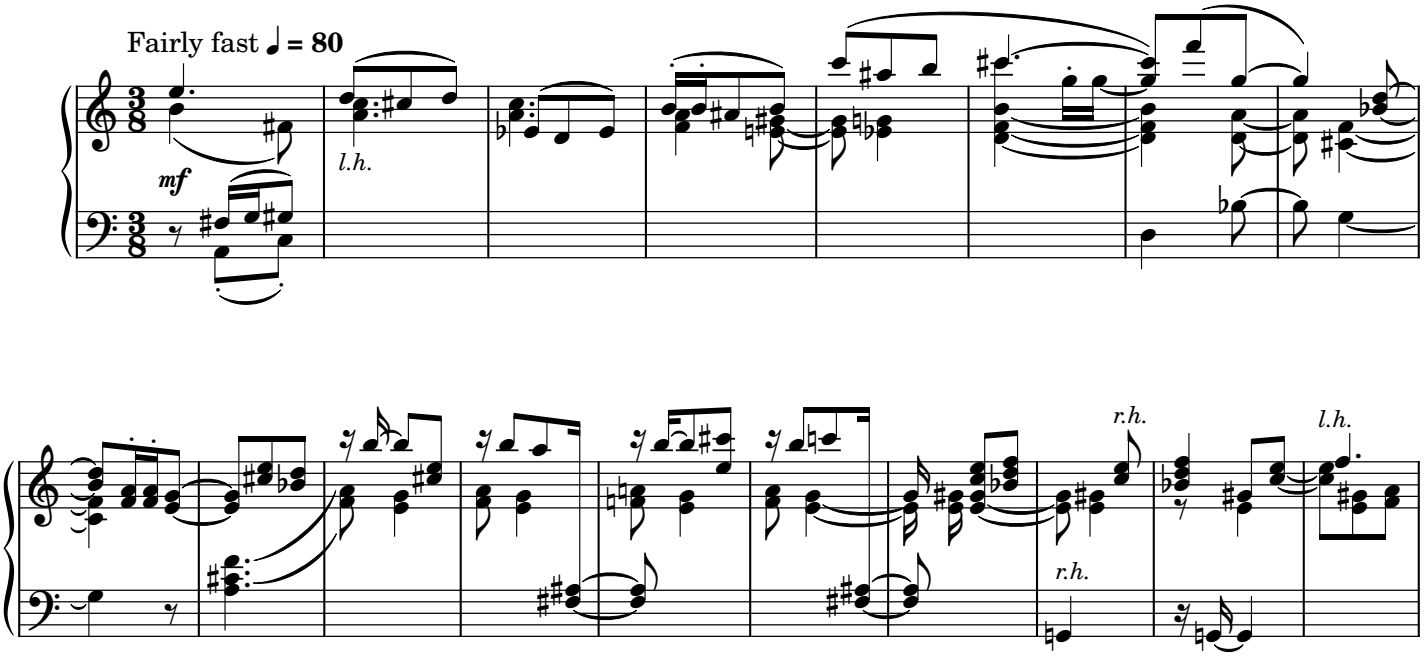

NOTE: For the most part, use both pedals. (If played on an organ, use chiefly the lighter strings-stops, on an enclosed manual. Hold all notes their full value, regardless of dissonance.)

mf
f
Stand out! Come to Him with - out the things the world brings; Come to Him!
mf
f f broadly
decresc.
slower
dcresc.
As a child and, as a poor man. Christians give all Christians have all.
slower as in the beginning
mp
p
l.h.
ppp
more broadly
r.h.
f decresc.
p

41

"1, 2, 3."

(1921)

Fairly fast ♩ = 80
mf
l.h.
r.h.
l.h.
r.h.

42

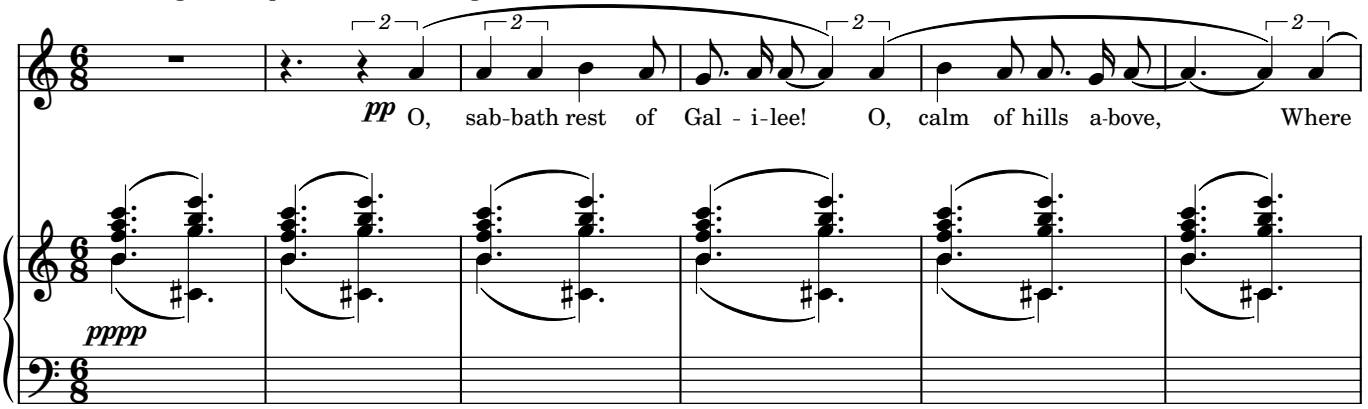

Serenity

A unison chant

(1919)

Whittier

Very slowly, quietly and sustained, with little or no change in tempo or volume throughout.

Je - sus knelt to share with Thee, the si - lence of e - ter - ni - ty In - ter - pret - ed by love. Drop Thy still dews of qui - et - ness, till all our striv - ings cease: Take from our souls the strain and stress, and let our or - dered lives con - fess, the beau - ty of thy peace.
l.h.
l.h.

43

The Things Our Fathers Loved

(and the greatest of these was Liberty)

(1917)

14
ff
all Red, White and Blue Now! Hear the
più accel.
l.h.
ff
ff 16 songs! I know not what are the
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
18
poco rall.
words But they sing in my
r.h.
l.h.
rit.
20 p much slower
soul of the things our Fath - ers loved.
very slowly and sustained
pp
pp
rit.
ppp
ppp

44 Watchman!

(1913)

from 2nd Violin Sonata

John Bowring

Andante con moto

mf

4

𝅗𝅥 = 𝅗𝅥.

(Lowell Mason)

mp

Watch - man, tell us

mp

7 of the night, what its signs of prom - ise are: Travel - ler, o'er yon

mp

11 moun - tain'sheight, See that glo - ry beam - ing star! Watch - manaught of
più rit.
l.h.
15 joy or hope? Travel - ler Yes! Travel - ler Yes! Travel - ler yes; it
più ten.
(ten.)
p
f 20 brings the day, Prom - ised day of Is - ra - el. Dos't thousee its beau-teous più animato 25 ray? Travel - ler, See!
più rit.
rall. e dim.
ppp
pp

45
At the River

(1916)

from 4th Violin Sonata

Robert Lowry

The piano part must not be played heavily.
44, 45, 46, 47, comprise a group of songs based on hymn-tune themes.

12
rit.
God? gath - er at the riv - er! Yes, we'll gath-er at the riv - er, the
più rit.
p a tempo
16 beau - ti-ful, thebeau - ti - ful riv - er, Yes we'll gath - er at the riv - er 20 that flows by thethrone of God.
8
f 23
mp
più rit.
Shall we gath - er?shall we gath - er at the ri - ver?
mp
più rit.
a tempo

46
His Exaltation

(1913)

Adapted from 2nd Violin Sonata

Robert Robinson

Slowly (maestoso)

11 (Autumn)
ff
For the gran - deur of Thy na - ture, grand be - yond a se - raph's (preferably for a unison chorus.)
ff 15 thought For the won - ders of Cre - a - tion, Works with skill and kind - ness 19 più rit. e decresc.
wrought; Through Thine Em - pires wide do - main 22
mp
Bles - sed be Thy gen - tle Reign.
mp

47
The Camp-Meeting

(1912) from a movement of Symphony No. 3

Charlotte Elliott
(in part)

11
p
2
A - cross the sum - mer mea - dows 13 fair, there comes a song of fer - vent 15
cresc.
prayer, It ri - - ses ra - diant - ly o'er
cresc.

17 the world, Ex - ult - ing, ex - ult - ing, in the
più animando 19
f
mp
power of God! Ex-alt-ing Faith in life a-bove but hum-bly yield - ing yield
più rit.
l.h.
22
ten.
p
- ing, yield - ing to His love,. Just as I am with - loco
più ten.
pp

24
-out one plea, But that Thy blood was shed for me, and
p
p 27 that Thou bidd'st me come to Thee, O lamb of God,
l.h.
30
pp
I come! I come!
ppp
pp
p

48

Thoreau

(1915)

Adapted from themes in a Second Pianoforte Sonata

49
In Flanders Fields

(1919)

McCrae

18 hold back here (less restrained) heard a - midst the guns be - low We are the dead. Short days a - l.h.
a tempo
l.h.
hold back
più ten.
23
f
ten. mf slower
-go we lived, felt dawn, saw sun - set glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie in Flan - ders
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
slower
mf 28
ff fields Take up our quar - rel with the foe! To with marked even rythm decisively, evenly and broadly (largamente) ad lib
f ff

32
fff
you from fall - ing hands we throw, we throw the torch. Be yours to hold it
fff 35 high If ye break faith with us who die We 38
slower
mp
shall not sleep though the pop-pies grow In Flan - ders fields.
slower
mp
decresc.
p
pp
pp
The G♯'s should sound after the roll.

50
He is there!

(May 30, 1917)

11
-ade The vil - lage band would play those old war tunes, and the Same, His fath - ers fought that med - i - e - val stuff and "say." He's con - scious al - ways of his coun - try's aim which is 14 sf
ff
G. A. R. would shout,
he will fight it now,
Lib - er - ty for all,
"Hip Hip Hoo-ray!" in the
"Hip Hip Hoo-ray!" this is
"Hip Hip Hoo-ray!" is all
ff 17 più decresc.
f
same old way, As it sound-ed on the old camp ground.
the day," When he'll fin - ish up that ag - ed job. That he'll say, As he march-es to the Flan - ders front.
f più decresc.

Obligato ad lib Violin, Flute or Fife
20 CHORUS
Hoo - ray!
boy has sailed o'er the o - cean He is there, he is there, he is Col 8 ad lib.
23 there. He's fight-ing for theright, but when it comes to might, He is cresc.
26 there, he is there,he is there; As the Al - lies beat up all the 29 Oct. ad lib.

fff war-lords! He'll be there, he'll be there, and then the world will 8 32
ff 1st and 2nd Verse
mp
Yell
fff
mp
shout the Bat - tle cry of Free-dom Tent-ing on a new camp
fff
mf
8 ground.
f mf
8

37 3rd Verse
cresc.
Voice in small notes, to be sung ad lib.
Tent-ing on a new camp ground. Tent-ing to-night
mf 40
f ff
ff
Tent-ing on a new camp ground for it's ral - ly round the Flag boys 43
Ral-ly once a-gain, Shout - ing the bat-tle cry of Free - dom

51 Tom Sails Away

(1917)

7 lightly
p gar - den; the let-tuce rows are show-ing green. Thin - ner grows the smoke o'er 10
mp
mp
3 5 the town, strong - er comes the breeze from the ridge, 'Tis aft - er 13
six, the whistles have blown, the milk train's gone 15
f
f 3 down the val - ley Dad - dy is com-ing up the hill from the 17

f slowly but firmly mill. We run down the lane to meet him But to - mf
f
rit. p dim.
19
ff
slower
- day! In free-dom's cause Tom sailed a - way for o - ver there, o - ver there, o - ver
mp
ff marcato
f
mp 23
> pp
Very slowly, as in the beginning
ppp
3 there! Scenes from my child-hood are float - ing be-fore my eyes.
rall.
> ppp
ppp
ppp
ppp
rall.
pppp

52

Old Home Day

'Ducite ab urbe domum, mea carmina, ducite Daphnin'

(1920)

7 Moderately, and with even rythm
p
mp
1. A mi - nor tune from Todd's op-era house,
2. A cor - ner lot, a white pick-et fence, 12 comes to me as I cross the square, there, We boys dai - sies al - most ev - ery - where, there, We boys 15
f
p
used to shout the songs that rouse the hearts of the brave and fair, used to play "One old cat," and base hits filled the air, 18
mf
of the brave and fair.
filled the sum-mer air.
As we (ad lib.) As we (march time)
f
mp

21
Obligato (ad lib) fife, violin or flute, only with 2nd verse
CHORUS
march a - long down Main street, be - hind the vil - lage band, The march a - long on Main street, of that "Down East" Yan - kee town, Comes a 25
dear old trees, with their arch of leaves seem to grasp us by the hand.
sign of life, from the "3rd Crops" fife, strains of an old break - down;
f 29
While we step a-long to the tune of an I - rish song, Glad but wist - ful sounds the While we step a-long to the tune of an I - rish song, Comes an - oth - er sound we 32 old church bell, for un - der-neath's a note of sad - ness, "Old home town" fare - all know well, It takes us way back for - ty years, that lit - tle red school - house

f 36
for chorus repeat in each verse
1. use going back to 𝄋 for 2nd verse, after repeat of 1st verse chorus
- well.
bell.
As we well.
As we mf
l.h.
r.h.
to 𝄋 for 2nd verse
mp
40
2. finale after repeating chorus of 2nd verse
ff
bell.
8
fff

53

In the Alley

After a session at Poli's

Not sung by Caruso, Jenny Lind, John McCormack, Harry Lauder, George Chappel, or the Village Nightingale.

(1896)

12
a tempo
could it be! O could it be she smiled one me! All that day, be - fore my eyes, a - più moto
8
rit.
a tempo
mf
8 ad lib.
15
-mids't the bus - y whirl, came the im - age of that love - ly I - rish girl, And
p 18 hopes would seem to rise, as the could rise in the skies, When I thought of her and those beam-ing use Sat. night

21 eyes. So that eve - ning, dressed up smart and neat, I wan - derd down her mp
25 street, At the cor - ner of the al - ley was an - oth - er man with Sal - ly, and my più
ten.
28
eyes grew dim, She smiles on him, and on - ly on him!
rit.
rit.
change "swipe" ad lib.
p
8

54
A Son of a Gambolier

(1895)

Charles Ives

27 join my hum – ble dit – ty, From tip – per y town I steer, Like wish I had a bar rel of rum, And su – gar three hun – dred pound, The 31 ev 'ry hon – est fel – low, I take my la – ger beer, Like col lege bell to mix it in, The clap – per to stir it round; I'd 35 ev' – ry hon – est fel – low, I take my whis – key clear. I'm a drink the health of dear old Yale, And friends both far and near.
39
1.
ram – bling rake of pov – er – ty, And a son of a Gam – bo lier. (2)I

43
2.
lier.
p 51
tr
59 68
8 ad lib.
8 ad lib.
8 ad lib.
ff marcato
78 88
fff

98
Kazoo Chorus
Flutes, fiddles, and flageolets
ff
tr
ff 107 115
add piccolos, ocarinas and fifes Trombones
124 sf sf
fff
1.
2.

(1919)

55
Down East

18 ly-ing deep in mem-o-ry, draws my heart where I would be, near-er to thee
p
pp
l.h.
25
Slower
p Ev'-ry Sun-day morn-ing, when the chores were al-most done, from that lit-tle
l.h.
rit.
32
pp
par-lor sounds the old mel-o-de on, "Near-er my God to Thee, near-er to Thee," più ten.
r.h.
39
With those strains a stron-ger hope comes near-er to me.
più cresc. e rit.
8

56

The Circus Band

(1894)

In quickstep time about ♩ = 132

ff

9

mf

All sum - mer long, we boys dreamed 'bout big cir-cus joys!

mf

17 repeat (ad lib.)

Down Main street, comes the band, Oh! "Ain't it a grand and glor - ious noise!"

f

mf

25

Hor-ses are pran-cing Knights ad-van-cing; Hel - mets gleam - ing, Pen - nants stream - ing,

p

etc. lower notes carry tune

cresc.

33

repeat (ad lib.)

Cle - o - pa - tra's on her throne! That gol-den hair is all her own.

f

41
(𝅗𝅥 = 𝅗𝅥)
f
A little slower about ♩. = 120
47
Where is the la - dy all in pink? Last
p
tr
8va lower 54 year she waved to me I think; Can she have died? Can! that! rot!
61
She is pass-ing but she sees me not!
f 8va lower

68 8 75
ff
Where is the
f mf
sf
ff
fff marcato
Hear the trombones!
83 la - dy all in pink? Last year she waved to me I think; Can she 90 have died? Can! that! rot! She is pass - ing but she sees me not!

57 Mists

(1910)

*The group of notes in the r.h. in measures 2,3,4,5 and 16,17,18 may be omitted, in which case the l.h. part, with the exception of the low G, may be doubled an octave higher. If the r.h. notes are used they should be scarcely audible

11 f But hap - pier days through mem - ory weaves
più animando
f
l.h.
r.h.
poco rall. e dim.
15 3
p a spell, And brings new rit.
*
a tempo
pp 18 hope to hearts who bid fare - well.
pp
ppp
rall.

58 Evidence

(1910)

9
mf
moun - tain's bathed in light; There comse o'er the moun - tain a 12
dim.
p shad - - ow but the sun ev - ershines thro' the
dim.
p dim. e più rit.
14
night!
pp
rall.
rall.

59
Tolerance

(from a quotation in Pres. Hadley's Lectures, "Some Influences in Modern Philosophic Thought," Yale University Press.)

(1909)

60 Autumn

(1908)

13
She turns her face fro the sun to smile up - on and ra - diant - ly, più animato
cresc.
f
cresc.
16 ra - diant - ly, throu Fall's bright 18
ff
slowly
p
rit.
glow, he smiles and brings the Peace of ff
p
rit.
21
pp God!
rall. e dim.
rit. poco a poco
pp
8

61 Natures's Way

(1908)

62
The Waiting Soul

(1908)

John Newton

13
poco cresc.
Call thespi - cesforth!
Help_ me toreach,
Help_ me toreach the
f 16
rit.
pp più animando
dis - tnatgoal; con-firm my fee - ble, fee - ble knee; Pi - ty thesick-ness of a
rit.
pp più animando
19 soul,_____ That faints for love,_____ for love_____ of Thee!_____
22
pp
Cold as I feel this heart of mine, Yet, since I feel it

24
so it yields some hope of life di - vine
poco cresc.
ff
ff 27 life di - vine Till the 29
dear De - liv - erer come,
I'll waith with hum - ble
pp
rit.
pp slowly 32 prayer; I'll wait with hum - ble prayer.
ppp

63
Those Evening Bells

(1907)

Moore

13 soothing chime.
p
And so 'twill
pp 18 be when I'm gone;
That tune - ful peal will still ring on 23
poco rit.
while oth - er bards shall walk these dells, and sing your praise, sweet eve-ning bells.
adagio
pp
l.h.
rit.
Ped.

64
The Cage

(1906)

Note: All notes not marked with sharp or flat are natural 65

Spring Song

(1904)

12 agitato
Now all the dry brown things are
p 15
cresc.
ans - 'wring With here a leaf and there a fair brown flow'r,
poco cresc.
18
rit.
p lento
I on - ly heard her not, and wait and wait.
poco rit.
lento
pp
ppp

66
The Light that is Felt

(1904)

Whittier

11 then the dark will all be light
mp
We old-er chil-dren
p 15
grope our way from dark be-hind to dark be-fore;
And on-ly when our 19
cresc.
hands we lay in Thine, O God! the night is day, then the 22
night is day, and there is dark-nes nev-er more.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.
pp

67 Walking

(1902)

24
più ten.
bridge with au - tumn col - ors glow.
più ten.
29
mf
evenly 33
mf
Now we strike a stea - dy gait, walk - ing towards the fu - ture, let - ting past and 38 pres - ent wait, we push on in the sun, Now hark! Some - thing bids us pause

42 (down the valley, a church, a funeral going on)
pp
mp slower
Ped. sempre
48 (up the valley, a roadhouse, a dance going on)
ppp
mp (faster) 53
f 58 hold with Pedal
pp
f
f

63
f
But
l.h.
mp
f 69
we keep on a - walk - ing 'tis yet not noon - day, the road still calls us 74
3
on - ward, to - day we do not choose to die or to dance, but 79 to live and walk.
più decresc. non rallen.

68 Ilmenau
Over all the Treetops

(1902)

Goethe
Trans. H.T.I.

15 schwei - gen die Vö - gel - ein im Wal - de War - te nur, are si - lent each in his qui - et nest. So my heart,
più animando 19
più animando
più cresc.
bal - de, war - te nur bal - de, ruh - est du,
wait - ing, So my heart, wait - ing, soon will
rit.
più cresc.
23
pp
ruh - est du auch, du auch, du auch.
rest, will, rest, will rest, will rest.
dim. e rit.
pp molto tranquillo
dim. e rit.

69
Rough Wind

(1902)

Shelly

Allegro maestoso

f

f

3

f

Rough wind, that

f

5 moan - est loud

grief too

7

sad for song;

Rough wind, that

9 moan - est loud grief too sad for 11 song; Wild wind when 13 sul - len cloud knells 15 all night long; Wild wind when 17 sul - len cloud knells all night long; 20

ff
Sad storm, whose tears arevain, Bare woods whose 23 cresc. poco accel.
branch - es stain, Deep caves and drear - y main;
accel.
ff 26
fff
Wail, for the worlds wrong!
fff
con fuoco
sf

70 Mirage

(1902)

C. G. Rossetti

71

(1902)

There is a Lane

72 Tarrant Moss

(1902) Kipling

73 Harpalus
(An Ancient Pastoral)

(1902)

from "Reliques" Thomas Percy

10 gunne. Thou went - est first by sute to seeke A frame. Co - - rin, he liv - eth care - lesse: He 13 2 ti - gre to make tame, That settes not by thy leapes a - mong the leaves: He eats the frutes of 16
love a leeke; But makes thy griefe her game.
thy re-dresse: Thou "reapst" he takes the sheaves.
We are all sorry for Harpalus,__ not withstanding the music.

74
The Childrens' Hour

(1901) Longfellow

8
-pa - tions That is known as Chil - drens' Hour I 11
più moto
hear in the cham - ber a - bove me the pat - ter of lit - tle feet The più moto 13 sound of a door that is o - pened and voi - ces soft and sweet. From my 15
(♩ = ♩.)
stu - dy I see in the lamp-light De - scend - ing the broad hall stair, Grave

19
Al - ice and laugh - ing Al - le - gra and E - dith with gold - en 21
(♩. = ♩)
hair.
mf
rit.
23
pp
Be - tween the dark and day - light,
pp a tempo
25
comes a pause,
That is known as Chil - drens' Hour.
più rit.
più rit.

75

(1901)

I travelled among unknown men

Wordsworth

21
To love thee more and more. A - mong thy moun-tains did I feel the joy of my de - broaden
ff 26
- sire; And she I cher-ished, turned the wheel, Be - side an Eng - lish fire. Thy ff
più rit.
ff più ten.
dim.
31
p morn - ings showed, thy nights con-cealed the bowers where Lu - cy played; And thine is too the p a tempo
36
rit.
last green field That Lu - cy's eyes sur - veyed.
tenuto
rit.
pp
dim. e più rall.
ppp

76 Qu'il m'irait bien

(1901)

14
-ïf dé - sir: Le voi - là dou - ce a mi - é, l'a - mour veut te l'of - frir.
3 19 più animato
24 poco a poco cresc.
ff

29
mf
Aux tresses de - tes beaux che-veux que ce ré - seau s'en - la - ce, qu'il bril - le plein de -
mf
34
- grà - ce; par-tout je le sui-vrai des yeux. Dans cet - te fou - le im - men - se 39
f je suis per - du pour toi! Sym - bo-le d'es - pe ran - ce, fais la ré - ver à moi!

77 Elégie

(1901)

Gallet

21
-tends plus les chants joy - eux des oi - seaux! En em por - tant 26 mon bon - heur, mon bon heur O, bien - a - mé tu t'en 31 es al - le! Et c'est en vain, que
cresc.
mp
più mosso
cresc.
35 le prin - temps re - vient; Oui, sans re - 39

cresc.
-tour a - vec toi le gai so - liel Les jours ri - ants 42
f
dim. e rit.
p
p sont par - tis! par - tis! Comme en mon coeur tout est Tempo primo
pp 47 decresc.
som - bre et gla - cé! gla - cé Tout est flé - tri! Pour tou-53
- jours!

78 Chanson de Florian

(1901)

J. P. Claris de Florian

20 aime en sui - te d'a - van - ta - ge, Ah! C'est mon a - mi, ren_ 27 __ dez le moi! j'ai - son a - mour il a___ ma foi!
33
J'ai son a - mour___ il a_____ ma foi!_____ ma foi!
40 Moderato
mp
Si pas-sant près de sa chau - mière Le pauvre,en you-ant son trou - peau,
mp

46
animato
O se de - man - der un ag - neau Et qu'il ob - tienne en - cor la 51
rall. e dim.
mè - re Oh! c'est bien liu, Oh! ren - dez la moi!
poco rit.
p
f 57 Allegro scherzo
f Si par sa voix ten-dre, plain - tiv - e 64
Il char - me l'é - cho de vos bois, l'é - cho

70 l'é - cho Si les ac - cents de son haut bois, Ren - dent la 77 ber - gè - re pen - si - ve Oh! C'est en - cor lui ren - dez le 84
moi. J'ai son a - mour, Il a ma foi J'ai son a - mour, il 91
a ma foi, ma foi.
rit.
p

79 De la drama:
Rosamunde

Bĕlanger
From V. Chezy

15
f rien ne me plait rien ne me plait dans la na - tu - re. Mon 18
ff
recit.
a tempo
pp
pp Dieu! que j'ai pleu-ré long temps Pour - tant s'il ne doit
ff
recit.
rit.
pp 22
2 2 plus ve - nir? Mon Dieu! toi que j'im - ple - re! Eh bien! la tombe 26
pp
peut en-core an moins nous rè - u - nir.
rall.

80
Weil' auf mir

(1902)

Lenau
Westbrook-trans.

13
- ri - sche un - er - gründ - lich süs - se
sweet - ness thine un - fath - omed won - drous
pp 17
Nacht.
night.
Nimm mit Take
pp
pp 21 dei - nem Zau - ber dun - kel die - se now with thy som - bre ma - gic from my 25

cresc.
Welt von hin - nen mir, dass du ü - - ber sight this world a - way, That a - lone Thou
cresc.
29
mei - nem Le - ben ein - sam schwe - best may'st for - - ev - er O'er my life ex -
f
p 33 für und für.
- tend thy sway.
ppp

81
The Old Mother

(1900)

Vinje
Corder-trans.

12
f
a tempo
3
p
- ken Arm und die-sen wil - den im-part, my arm of stur - dy Muht. might.
Du Thou\st
f legato, largamente
a tempo
p
3 16 tenuto
wisch - test ab die Thrä - ne mein, war's mir im Herz - en bang, und wip'd a - way each child - ish tearm When I was sore dis - trest, And
pp 20
poco rit
küss - test much den Kna - ben dein, und hauch - test in die Brust hin ein den kiss'd thy lit - tle lad - die dear, and taught him songs that ban - ish fear from
p
rall.
24
rall.
ff
sie - ges-froh-en Sang.
ev - 'ry man-ly breast.
f
ff
mf
rit.
Ped.

30
p
3
Du gabst mir, was be - se - ligt mich, das
And more than all thou'st giv - en me, A pp a tempo
34 poco a poco accel.
wei - che Herz (das) Herz da - zu; drum Al - te will ich lie - ben dich, wo - hum - ble true and ten - der heart; So, dear old moth - er, I'll love thee Where 38 broader
-hin mein Fuss auch rich - tet sich, wohl son - der Rast und e'er my foot may wan - der free, Till death out lives shall
f broader f largo, largamente 40
a tempo
pp sotto voce Ruh.
part.
Mut - ter, Mut - ter, Mut - ter.
Moth - er, Moth - er, Moth - er.
a tempo
ppp
ppp

82
In Summer Fields Feldeinsamkeit

(1900)

Almers
Chapman-trans.

13
o - ben von Gril - len rings um-schwirrt ohn'
-bound - ded, by voi - ces of the wood land, a 16 Un - ter-lass, ohn'_ Un - ter-lass, von_ Him - melsbläu - e_ con-stantcall, a_ con - stantcall, and_ by the won - drous 19
3 wun - der-sam um wo - ben, um vo
blue of Heav'n sur - round - ed, sur - round 22
p ben.
ded.
Die
The

25 shö - nen, weis - sen Wol - ken zieh'n da - hin durch's tie - fe Balu wie love - ly snow white could drift far and wide, like si - lent dreams through
p 28 schö - ne stil - le Träu - me, schö - ne, stil - le Träu - me, deeps of a - zure wend - ing, like si - lent dreams, 31
pp Meno mosso
schö - ne, stil - le Träu - me; mir ist als ob ich längst ge - through the a - zure wend - ing; I fell as though I long a - pp 34
-stor - ben bin mir ist, als ob ich längst ge - stor - ben bin und
-go had died, I fell as though I long a - go had died, to 37

mf
zie - he se - lig mitdurch ew' - geRäu - me, zie se lig drift with them through realmsof bliss un-end - ing, to drift he through 40
rall.
a tempo
pp mit durchew;-ge Räu - me Ich ru - he still im hoh - en grü - nen realms of blissun-end - ing Still I lie where green the grass and 3
rall.
a tempo
pp
p 43 Gras und sen - de lan - ge mie - nen Blick nach tall and gaze a - bove me in - to depths un 46
3 o - ben um - wo ben bound - ed un - bound ed
ppp

83 Ich Grolle Nicht

(1899)

Heine

16
più animando
strahlst, in Di - a - man - ten pracht, es fällt kein Strahl in die - nes poco cresc.
19
f Herz - ens Nacht, in Herz - ens Nacht, das weiss ich längst, das weiss ich
f
f 21
pp längst, das weiss ich längst.
pp
p 28
p Ich grol - le nicht, und wenn das Herz auch bricht, Ich sah dich ja im Trau-me, cresc.
animato
cresc.
animato

The writer has been severely criticized for attempting to put music to texts of songs, which are masterpieces of great composers. The song above and some of the others, were written primarily as studies. It should be unnecessary to say that they were not composed in the spirit of competition; neither Schumann, Brahms or Franz will be the one to suffer by a comparison, another unnecessary statement. Moreover, they would probably be the last to claim a monopoly of anything–espcially the right of man to the pleasure to trying to express in music whatever he wants to. These songs are inserted not so much in spite of this criticism as because of it.

84 from “Night of Frost in May”

(1899)

Meredith

11 stores.
But would I con - jure in - to
p 15
me
Those is - sue notes, I must re - view
What se - rious
cresc.
18 breath the wood - land drew; The low throb of ex-pect - an - cy;
And
mf
dim.
22 how the white
moth - er mute - ness pressed on leaf and herb;.....
p
rit.
a tempo
pp
rall.

(1897)

85 Dreams

Porteous Trans.

Moderato

18
tempo
Oh! But Oh! I can not tell why I fear their words are false: I tell me not to grieve love! For thou wilt come at last: I tempo 22
p
dream of thee, I dream of thee, love! and thou art near, art near till I a - dream of thee, I dream of thee, love! and thou art near, art near till I a -
f
p 25 1.
-wake.
2. When I look
più rit.
a tempo
l.h.
r.h.
p 30
2.
pp
wake. I dream of thee, I dream of thee and thou art near, art near till I a - wake.
pp
ppp
pp

86 Omens and Oracles

(about 1900)

Author unknown
to composer

10 animando wake - ful night came round me sigh - ing cry - ing "Fool be-ware, Fool be - ware!" Check the rit.
a - 13
tempo
feel - - - ing o'er thee steal - ing, tempo accel.
cresc.
15
Let thy first love be thy last,
accel.
17 Or if love a - gain thou must at
cresc.
accel.

19
ff
a tempo
least this fa - tal love for bear," A - ff
21
- ma - - ra! A - ma - - ra! A -
dim.
23
- ma - - - - ra.
p 25
dim. e rit.

27 Vivace
animando molto
mf
Now the dark breaks, now the lark wakes; Now the voi - ces fleet a - way,
mf
cresc.
31
cresc.
Now the breeze a - bout the blos - som; Now the rip - ple in the reed;
35 Beams and buds and
f 37 poco animando
birds be - gin to sing and say,
cresc.
f

39
"Love her for she loves thee,
cresc.
41 3
ff
Love her for she loves thee."
ff
più lento
pp
And I più lento
44 mezza voce 3 know not which to heed.
O, sostenuto
ca - ra a - ma - ra a - pp
pp 48
pp
- ma - - ra.
ppp

87
An Old Flame

(1896)

17
Ah! could I meet thee, and have thee greet me, Come to me, Stand by me,
p 22
Love me as yore,
Sad - ness out-done then, new life would come then,
f
cresc.
f
25
Such joy nev - er known be - fore;
For I do love thee, May God a - bove thee,
più ten.
p più rit.
p
rall.
più ten.
29
Bless thee ev - er more,
God bless thee! Love, Bless thee! Love
pp
rall.
ad lib.
rall.
pp
ad lib.

88
A Night Song

(1895)

Moore

28 my dear, 'Tis ne'er too late for de - light, and best of all the 35
pp ways to length - en days is to steal a few hours from the
pp 42 night, my dear, to steal a few hours from the night, When the 49 drow - sy world is dream - ing, dream - ing, dream - ing, love!
pp
pp

89

A Song- for Anything

(1892)

NOTE: The song above is a common illustration (and not the only one in this book) of how inferior music is inclined to follow inferior words and "vice-versa." The music was originally written to the sacred words printed lat, (and the best of the three.) Some thirty years ago it was sung in a country church and even as a response after the prayer. The congregation not only tolerated it, but accepted it apparently with satisfaction. That music of this character is less frequently heard in relegious services no-a-days in one of the signs of the wholesome progress of music in this country. An "Amen" was tacked on to the end of this song; a relative of the composer remarked, at the time, that it was about as appropiate to this kind of a tune as a benediction would be after an exhibition of the "Circassian Beauty" at the "Danbury Fair."

90
The World's Highway

17
rit.
3
f road was good. But Oh! I passed where the way was rough I saw it stained with rit.
f agitando 21
p Meno mosso
blood I wan-der'd on till I tired grew, Far on the world's high-sf 25
-way My heart was sad for what I saw I feared, I feared the
f 29
rall.
Tempo I°
far - way, the far a - way. So when one day, O sweet-test
l.h.
decresc.
p
p

33
cresc.
day, I came to a gar-den small, A voice my heart knew 37
animando
called me in I ans - wered its bless - ed call; I left my wan - d'ring
cresc.
ff
41
dim.
p far and wide The free - dom and far - a - way But my gar - den blooms with
più rit.
pp a tempo(or a little slower) 45
sweet con-tent That's not on the world's high - way.

91
Kären

Author unknown
to composer

13 flased a - corss my mind, That till then I had been blind;
animato
mf
17
(♩. = ♩ of preceding)
(♩ = ♩. of preceding)
rit.
Tell me lit - tle Kär - en what thy heart felt
rit.
22
then?
mf a tempo
p

92 Marie

(1896)

Gottschall

14 pil-grim pass - ing on his way, Bows low be-fore they shrine; Thou eve-ning bells are greet - ing thee, With sweet - est mel - o - dy, O 18 art, my child, like one sweet prayer, So good, so fair, so pure al - most di - may no storm e'er crush thy flowers, Or break thy heart, or break thy heart, Ma - 21
1.
2.
-vine.
-rie.
2.How
p

93 Berceuse

(1900)

Charles Ives

94

Where the Eagle

(1900)

M.P. Turnbull

Adagio molto

mp

Where the ea - gle can - not see, Where cold winds can

p

7

rall.

mp

nev - er be, Where the sun's bright course doth glow ver - y ver - y

rall.

11

rall.

più ten.

p a tempo

broader

far be - low, There, in ev - er last - ing rest, Dwell those saints whom

più ten.

p

15

pp

Death hast blest, there in ev - er last - ing rest.

pp

ppp

rall.

95 Allegro

(1900)

7 and ere it dies a - way, Who knows what may be and ere the morn - ing light, These hopes may come to 9 mine! So straight I leave my me! So straight I leave my 11 3 night's a - bode to fare up - on the day's a - bode to fare up - on the 13 day's long road and think with rap - ture night's long road a - gain with rap - ture 15 ere sun's de - cline greet I the sun - - shine 17

1.
Largo
pp
What may be mine!
2.
Largo
pp
And what may be mine!
pp

96

Leigh hunt, in his Essays, “Rhyme and Reason,” says: ...“yet how many ‘poems’ are there....of which we require no more than the rhymes, to be acquainted with the whole of them? You know what the rouges have done by the ends they come to. For instance, what more is necessary to inform us all of the following gentleman has for sale, than the bell he tinkles as the end of his cry? We are as sure of him as the muffin-man.” Then he quotes the beautiful text, found in the song below. It is called a ‘Love Song,’ but this is not enough; when attached to music, it becomes a “Morceau du Coeur,” a “Romanzo di Central Park,” or an “Intermezzo Table d'hote.” “....Was there ever peroration more eloquent? Ever a series of catastrophes more explanatory of their previous history?”

(1900)

NOTE: Men with high, liquid notes, and lady sopranos may sing an octave higher than writen. The voice part of this “Aria,” however, may be omitted with good effect. To make a deeper impression, a violin may play the right-hand tune, and may be omitted,— for the same reason.

Some twenty years ago, an eminent and sure-minded critic of music in New York told a young man that _____ was one of our great composers; what he meant by "our" is not recorded, nor is it remembered that his profound statement was qualified by the word "living"—probaby not, as this arbiter of tears and emotions is quite enthusiastic over his enthusiasms. The above collection of notes and heartbeats would show, but does so very inadequatey, the influnce, on the youthful mind, of the master in question.

97
The South Wind

(1899)

14

lifts the lea - fy cov - 'ring that lies close at its base, and Mond, der ist ihr Buh - le, er weckt sie mit sei - nem Licht, und 18

più ten.

there with sweet-est wel - come, looks up his old love's face.
ihm ent-schlei-ert sie freund - lich ihr from - mes Blu - men ge - sicht.

più animando

più ten.

23

p

2. Be - neath the snow she waits him and keeps her leave's brave dress, Sie blüht und glüht und leuch - tet, star-ret stumm in die Höh';

pp

p

NOTE: The music for the second verse may be used for both.

98

Naught that Country needeth

(1899) Aria for Baritone (from a Cantata, "The Celestial Country") Alford from St.Bernard

13

Where the God - head dwell - eth, where the God - head dwell - eth, 17

f

tem - ple there is none. All saints that in these courts have stood,

21

All saints that in these courts have stood are but babes and 24 feed-ing on chil-drens food, babes and feed-ing on chil-drens food. On through 28

mp
dark - ness, On through sign and to - ken, On through
p 32
p stars a-midst the night On to light, On through mp 36
poco espress.
3 3 dark - ness, On through sign and to - ken, for - ward in - to poco cresc.
40
cresc.
f light, for-ward in - to light! Light!
poco cresc. e accel.
f
più rit.

44
p a tempo
On through sign and to - ken, stars a-midst the night.
mf
49 Quasi recit.
f
For-ward, for-ward in - to light!
accel.
rall.
3 54
p
f
For-ward, for ward in - to light!
mf a tempo
On thro' sign and
accel. e cresc.
ff
a tempo
mf 60
p
pp
dim. poco a poco
to - ken, On through sign and to - ken, On through sign and to - ken, stars a-midst the night.
dim. poco a poco
p
pp
pp

99

Forward into Light

Aria for Tenor (or Soprano) (from a Cantata “The Celectial Country”)

(1898)

Alford
from St. Bernard

20
-pose springs to glo - rious birth; Sick they
p 25 ask for heal - - ing, Blind they grope, they 30 grope for day; Pour up - on na - tions wis - doms lov-ing, poco rall. e cresc.
35
rit.
lov - ing ray. Sick they ask for heal - -
p
a tempo
p rit.
col voce

39
-ing, Blind they grope, they grope for day;
44
rit.
Pour on na - tions wis - dom's lov-ing ray, wis-dom's lov - ing
poco rall.
cresc.
sf 3 49 ray, lov - ing ray.
a tempo
più animato
rit.
col voce 54
f
For - ward out of er - - ror, Leave be - mf
3

59
-hind the night. For - ward out of 64
cresc.
dark - - ness. For - - ward in - - to
cresc.
68 light. For - - ward when in 71 child - - hood buds the in - fant mind,

74
f buds the in - fant mind. All poco string.
77 through youth and man - hood, Youth and 81
più mosso
poco
man - hood for - - ward till the veil be
f 85 animando ed cresc.
lift - - ed; Climb height to height!

88 ff broader Climb height to height! For - ward out of ff 91 dark - ness: On ev - er on - ward, 94 poco agitato
climb - - ing till our faith, un -
fff
largemente
sf 97
rit. e dim.
p
pp
- til our faith be sight
col voce
pp
pp mf
mp

100
A Christmas Carol

101
My Native Land

(1897) (Traditional)

Adagio

102 Memories
A.

(1897) Presto

23 beat time with the drum. Whistle - - - - - - - - - - - - - We 29 whis - tle and we hum, beat time with the drum, Whistle - - - - - - - 35
- - - - - - - We're sit - ting in the op - - era house, the op - - era house, the (Octaves ad lib.)
40 op - era house, a - wait - ing for the cur - tain to rise with won - ders for our eyes, a

45 feel - ing of ex - pec - tan - cy, a cer - tain kind of ec - - sta - sy, ex - pec - tan - cy and 50 ec - sta - sy, ex - pec - tan - cy and ec - sta - sy Sh'--s'--s'-s.
Curtain!
B.
56 Adagio
p
From the street a strain on my ear doth fall, A Ped. Ped. sempre 60 tune as thread-bare as that "old red shawl," It is tat-tered, it is torn, it shows

63 sings of be - ing worn, It's the tune my Un - cle hummed from ear - ly morn, 'Twas a 66
com-mon lit-tle thing and kind 'a sweet, But 'twas sad and seemed to slow up both his 69 feet; I can see him shuff - ling down to the barn or to the town, a 72
hum - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - ming.
pp
ppp

103
The White Gulls
(from the Russian)

(1921) Maurice Morris

13 breast.
mf più animando
Souls of men that turn and wheel
l.h. mf più animando
18
O - ver wa - ters cold as steel.
poco cresc.
Souls of men that call and cry 20
As they know not where to fly.
pp Souls of more tranquilly
f
pp 23
men that sink to rest On an all re - ceiv - ing breast.
l.h.
l.h.
l.h.

104
Two little Flowers
(and dedicated to them)

(1921)

13 rose' pas-sing fair; The vi - o - let is ev - er dear, the 17 or - chid, ev - er rare; There's lov - li - ness in wild flow'rs of 21 field or wide sa - van - nah, But fair - est, rar - est of them all are 25
E - dith and Su - san - na.

105
West London
(A Sonnet)

(1921)

Matthew Arnold

13 la - bouring men, whose work lay some - where there, Pass'd 15 op - pos-ite; She touch'd her girl, who hied a-cross, and begg'd and came back 18 sat - is - fied. The rich she had let pass with a fro-zen stare.
p
pp
f
pp
p 22
mp
rit.
mf Thought I: A - bove her state this spir - it towers; She mp
mf

26 will not ask of A - liens, but of friends, Of shar - ers in a com - mon 30
f hu - man fate. She turns from the cold suc-cour which at - tends the un-known lit - tle from the f mf
mp 36
ff
un - know - ing great, And points us to a bet - ter time, and points us to a
ff
41 a little slower
sf
bet-ter time, And points us to a bet-ter time than ours'.
slowly
pp
ppp
8

106 from “Amphion”

(1896)

Tennyson

12 with young beech - es;.....
più mosso
17
f
.....And shep-herds from the moun-tain-eaves, Looked down, half pleased, half
f 21 fright - ened, As dashed a - bout the drunk - en leaves, The sun - shine 24
più rit.
a tempo
light - ened, The ran - dom sun - shine light - - ened.
sf
più rit.
a tempo

107
A Night Thought

(1895)

Moore

Adagio

p

How oft a cloud, with en - vious veil, Ob - scures yon bash - ful

p

5 light Which seems so mo - dest - ly to steal a - long the waste of 9 night! .....thus the world's ob - tru - sive wrongs ob - scure, with mal - ice

13

keen, some tim - id heart which on - ly longs to live and die un - seen.

dim. e rall.

pp

dim. e rall.

108 Songs my Mother taught me

(1895)

Heyduk translation adapted

19
dim.
poco rall.
each mel-o-dious meas - urs of - ten tears are flow - ing flow - ing
pp 24
ppp
from my mem-ory's trea - sure.
pp
Songs my moth-er taught me
ppp
ppp 30
ppp
in days long van - ished. Sel - dom from her eye - lids were the tear-drops ban - ished, ppp 36
rit.
were the tear - drops ban - ished.
rit.

109 Waltz

(1895)

110
The World's Wanderers

Charles Ives
Shelly

(1895)

111 Canon

(1894)

Charles Ives
Moore

20 was love, still love, from morn till night, My dream of life was love.
24
f
New hope may bloom, and days may come
mf
f 28 of mild - er, calm - er beam, But there's noth-ing half so sweet in oct.(ad lib.)
32
life as love's young dream, as love's young dream.

112
To Edith

(1892)

Andante moderato

Words and revised piano part, 1919.

113
When Stars are in the Quiet Skies

(1891) Bulwer-Lytton

19 peace - ful sea. For thoughts like waves that glide by night are at my side. The thoughts of the to sa - cred are for accel.
a tempo
24 still - est when they shine; All my love lies hushed in light be-neath the day - light's com-mon beam, I can but know thee as my star, my guid-ing 8 28
1.
heav'n be-neath the heav'n of thine.
star, my an - gel
34
2.
dim. e rall.
and my dream.
3
rit.
rall.
ppp

114
Slow March

(1888) Inscribed to the Children's Faithful Friend

The texts to Nos. 16, 29, 59 are from Books or Essays indicated, which do not give the source of the quotations.

The authors of the words to Nos. 76, 86, are unknown to the composer or the editor.

Where no author is indicated the words are by Harmony Twichell Ives or her Husband.

Nos. 5, 7, 8, 9a, 16, 20, 30, 40, 42, 44, 45, 46, 47, 62, 66, 94, 98, 99, 100, 105, 107, may be found suitable for some religious services

Nos. 28, 53, 85, 86, 87, 89, 90, 96, have little or no musical value—(a statement which does not mean that the others have any too much of it). These are inserted principally because in the writer's opinion they are good illustrations of types of songs, the fewer of which are composed, published, sold, or sung, the better it is for the progress of music generally. It is asked—(probably a superfluous request)—that they be not sung, at least in public, or given to students except as examples of what not to sing.

Nos. 15, 47, 59, 69, are adapted from orchestral scores.

Nos. 54, 56, are brass-band marches.

Nos. 44, 45, 46 are from violin sonatas.

Greek philosophers, ward-politicians, unmasked laymen, and others, have a saying that bad-habits and bad-gardens grow to the "unintendedables"; whether these are a kind of "daucus carota," "men," "jalis" or mechanistic theories of life" is not known,—but the statement is probably or probably not true. The printing of this collection was undertaken primarily, in order to have a few clear copies that could be sent to friends who, from time to time, have been interested enough to ask for copies of some of the songs; but the job has grown into something different,—it contains plenty of songs which have not been and will not be asked for. It stands now, if it stands for anything, as a kind of "buffer state,"—an opportunity for evading a question, somewhat embarrassing to answer,—"Why do you write so much ———, which no one ever sees?" There are several good reasons, none of which are worth recording.

Another, but unconvincing, reason for not asking publishers to risk their capital or singers their reputations, may be charged to a theory,—(perhaps it is little more than a notion, for many do not agree with it, —to be more exact, a man did agree with it once; he had something to sell,—a book, as I remember, called "The truth about something," or "How to write Music while Shaving!") Be that as it may,—our theory has a name—it is, "The balance of values," or "The circle of sources"; (in these days, of chameleon efficiency, every whim must be classified under a scientific sounding name, to save it from investigation). It stands something like this: That an interest in any art-activity, from poetry to baseball is better, broadly speaking, if held as a part of life, or of a life, than if it sets itself up as a whole—a condition verging, perhaps, towards a monopoly or possible a kind of atrophy of the other important values, and hence reacting unfavorably upon itself. In the former condition, this interest, this instinctive impulse, this desire to pass from "minor to major," this artistic-intuition, or whatever you call it, may have a better chance to be more natural, more comprehensive, perhaps, freer and so more tolerant,—it may develop more muscle in the hind legs and so find a broader vantage ground for jumping to the top of a fence, and more interest in looking around,—if it happens to get there.

Now all this may not be so; the writer certainly cannot and does not try to prove it by his own experience, but he likes to think the theory works out somewhat in this way. To illustrate further (and to become more involved): if this interest, and everyone has it, is a component of the ordinary life,—if it is free primarily to play the part of the, or a, reflex, subconscious-expression, or something of that sort, in relation to some fundamental share in the common work of the world, as things go, is it nearer to what nature intended it should be, than if, as suggested above, it sets itself up as a whole,—not a dominant value only, but a complete one? If a fiddler or poet does nothing all day long but enjoy the luxury of drudgery of fiddling or dreaming, with or without meals, does he or does he not, for this reason, have anything valuable to express?—or is whatever he thinks he has to express less valuable than he thinks? This is a question which each man must answer for himself. It depends to a great extent, on what a man nails up on his dashboard as "valuable." Does not the sinking back into the soft state of mind (or possibly a non-state of mind) that may accept "art for art's sake," tent to shrink rather than toughen up the hitting muscles,—and incidentally those of the umpire or the grand stand, if there be one? To quote from a book that is not read:—"Is not beauty in music too often confused with something which lets the ears lie back in an easy-chair? Many sounds that we are used to, do not bother us, and for that reason are we not too easily inclined to call them beautiful? . . . . Possibly the fondness for personal expression, —the kind in which self-indulgence dresses up an miscalls freedom,—may throw out a skin-deep arrangement , which is readily accepted at first as beautiful—formulae that weaken rather than toughen the musical-muscles. If a composer's conception of his art, it's functions and ideals, even if sincere, coincide to such an extent with these groove-colored permutations of tried out progressions in expediency, so that he can arrange them over and over again to his delight—has he or has he not been drugged with an overdose of habit-forming sounds? And as a result do not the muscles of his clientele become flabbier and flabbier until they give way altogether and find refuge only In exciting platitudes,—even the sensual outbursts of an emasculated rubber-stamp,—a 'Zaza,' a 'Salome' or some other money-getting costume of effeminate manhood? In many cases probably not,—but there is this tendency."

If the interest, under discussion, is the whole and the owner is willing to let it rest as the whole, will it not produce something less vital than the ideal which underlies, or which did underlie it? And is the resultant work from this interest as free as it should be from a certain influence of reaction which is brought on or, at least, is closely related to the artist's over-anxiety about its effect upon others?

And to this, also, no general answer must be given,—each man will answer it for him self—if he feels like answering questions. The whole matter is but one of the personal conviction. For as Mr. Sedgwick says in his helpful and inspiring little book about Dante, "in judging human conduct,"—and the manner in which an interest in art is used has to do with human conduct,—"we are dealing with subtle mysteries of motives, impulses, feelings, thoughts that shift, meet, combine and separate like clouds."

Every normal man,—that is, every uncivilized of civilized human being not of defective mentality, moral sense, etc., has, in some degree, creative insight (an unpopular statement) and an interest, desire and ability to express it (another unpopular statement). There are many, too many, who think they have none of it, and stop with the thought or before the thought. There are a few who think (and encourage others to think) that they and they only have this insight, interest, etc. . . . and that (as a kind of collateral security) they and they only know how to give true expression to it, etc. But in every human soul there is a ray of celestial beauty (Plotinus admits that) and a spark of genius (nobody admits that). If this is so, and if one of the greatest sources of strength,—one of the greatest joys, and deepest pleasures of men, is giving rein to it in some way, why should not every one instead of a few, be encouraged, and feel justified in encouraging everyone including himself to make this a part of every one's life and his life,—a value that will supplement the other values and help round out the substance of the soul?

Condorcet, in his attitude towards history,—Dryden, perhaps when he sings, "—from heavenly harmony, This universal frame began . . . . . The diapason closing full in man,"—more certainly Emerson in the "Over-soul" and "common-heart" seem to lend strength to the thought that this germ-plasm of creative-art, interest and work is universal, and that its selection-theory is based on any condition that has to do with universal encouragement. Encouragement here is taken In the broad sense of something akin to unprejudiced and intelligent examination, to sympathy and unconscious influence,—a thing felt rather than seen. The problem of direct encouragement is more complex and exciting but not as fundamental or important. It seems to the writer that the attempts to stimulate interest by elaborate systems of contests, prizes etc., are a little overdone nowadays. Something of real benefit to art may be accomplished in this way, —but perhaps the prizes may do the donors more good than the donatees. Possibly the pleasure and satisfaction of the former in having done what they consider a good deed, may be far greater than the improvement on the quality of the latter's work. In fact, the process may have an enervating effect upon the latter,—it may produce more Roderick Hudsons than Beethovens. Perhaps something of greater value could be caught without this kind of bait. Perhaps the chief value of the plan is to establish a "course at Rome" to raise the standard of American music (or the standard of American composers—which is it?) may be in finding a man strong enough to survive it. To see the sunrise a man has but to get up early, and he can always have Bach in his pocket. For the amount of a month's wages, a grocery-clerk can receive "personal instruction" from Beethoven and other living "conservatories." Possibly, the more our composer accepts from his patrons, "et al.," the less he will accept from himself. It may be possible that a month in a "Kansas wheat field" will do more for him than three years in Rome. It may be, that many men—perhaps some of genius— (if you won't admit that all are geniuses) have been started on the downward path of subsidy by trying to write a thousand dollar prize poem or a ten thousand dollar prize opera. How many master-pieces have been prevented from blossoming in this way? A cocktail will make a man eat more, but will not give him a healthy, normal appetite (if he had not that already). If a bishop should offer a "prize living" to the curate who will love God the hardest for fifteen days, whoever gets the prize would love God the least,—probably. Such stimulants, it strikes us, tend to industrialize art, rather than develop a spiritual sturdiness—a sturdiness which Mr. Sedgwick says shows itself in a close union between spiritual life and the ordinary business of life, against spiritual feebleness which shows itself in the separation of the two. And for the most of us, we believe, this sturdiness would be encouraged by anything that will keep or help us keep a normal balance between the spiritual life and the ordinary life. If for every thousand dollar prize a potato field can be substituted, so that these candidates of "Clio" can dig a little in real life, perchance dig up a natural inspiration, art's-air might be a little clearer—a little freer from certain traditional delusions,—for instance, that free thought and free love always go to the same café—that atmosphere and diligence are synonymous. To quote Thoreau incorrectly: "When half-Gods talk, the Gods walk!" Everyone should have the opportunity of not being over-influenced. But these unpopular convictions should stop,—"On ne donne rien si liberalement que ses conseils."

A necessary part of this part of progressive evolution (for they tell us not that evolution is not always progressive) is that every one should be as free as possible to encourage every one, including himself, to work, and to be willing to work where this interest directs,—"to stand and be willing to stand, unprotected, from all the showers of the absolute which may beat upon him,—to use or learn to use or , at least, to be unafraid of trying to use, whatever he can, of any and all lessons of the infinite which humanity has received and thrown to him—that nature has exposed and sacrificed for him,—that life and death have translated for him," until the products of his labor shall beat around and though his ordinary work,—shall strengthen, widen and deepen all his senses, aspirations, or whatever the innate power and impulses may be called, which God has given man.

Everything from a mule to an oak, which nature has given life has a right to that life, and a right to throw into that life al the values it can. Whether they be approved by a human mind or seen with a human eye, is no concern of that right. The right of a tree, wherever it stands, is to grow as strong and as beautiful as it can whether seen or unseen,—whether made immortal by a Turner,—translated into a part of Seraphic architecture or a kitchen table. The instinctive and progressive interest of every man in art, we are willing to affirm with no qualification, will go on and on, every fulfilling hopes, every building new ones, ever opening new horizons, until the day will come when every man while digging his potatoes will breathe his own Epics, his own Symphonies (operas if he likes it); and as he sits of an evening in his back-yard and shirt sleeves smoking his pipe and watching his brave children in their fun of building their themes, for their sonatas of their life, he will look up over the mountains and see his visions, in their reality,—will hear the transcendental strains of the day's symphony, resounding in their many choirs, and in all their perfection, through the west wind and the tree tops!

It was not Mark Twain but the "Danbury News Man" who became convinced that a man never knows his vices and virtues until that great and solemn event, that first sunny day in spring when he wants to go fishing, but stays home and helps his wife clean house. As he lies on his back under his the bed,—under al the beds,—with nothing beneath him but tacks and his past life,—with his soul (to say nothing of his vision), full of that glorious dust of mortals and carpets,—with his finger-tips rosy with the caresses of his mother-in-law's hammer (her annual argument),—as he lies there taking orders from the hired girl, a sudden and tremendous vocabulary comes to him. Its power is omnipotent, it consumes everything,—but the rubbish heap. Before it his virtues quail, hesitate and crawl carefully out of the cellar window; his vices, —even they go back on him,—even they can't stand this,—he seems them march with stately grace (and others) out of the front door. At this moment there comes a whisper,—the still small voice of a "parent on his father's side"—Vices and Virtues! Vices and Virtues! They ain't no sech things, —but ther'e a tarnal lot of 'em." Wedged in between the sewing machine and the future he examines himself, as every man in his position should do;—"What has brought me to this?—Where am I? Why do I do this?"—"these are the natural inquiries. They have assailed thousands before our day; they will afflict thousands in years to come and probably there is no form of interrogation so loaded with subtle torture,—unless it is to be asked for a light in a strange depot by a man you've just selected out of seventeen thousand as the one man the most likely to have a match. Various authors have various reasons for bringing out a book, and this reason may or may not be the reason they give to the world; I know and care not. It is not for me to judge the world unless I am elected. It is a matter which lies between the composer and his own conscience, and I know of no place where it is less likely to be crowded. . . . . Some have written a book for money; I have not. Some for fame; I have not. Some for love; I have not. Some for kindlings; I have not. I have not written a book for any of these reasons or for all of them together. In fact, gentle borrower, I have not written a book at all"—I have merely cleaned house. All that is left out on the clothes line,—but it's good for a man's vanity to have the neighbors see him—on the clothes line.

For some such for different reason; through some such or different process this volume,—this package of paper, uncollectible notes, marks of respect and expression, is now thrown, so to speak, at the music fraternity, who for this reason will feel free to dodge it on its way—perhaps to the waste basket. It is submitted as much or more in the chance that some points for the better education of the composer may be thrown back at him, than that any of the points the music may contain may be valuable to the recipient.

Some of the songs in this book, particularly among the later ones, cannot be sung,—and if the could perhaps might prefer, if they had a say, to remain as they are,—that is, "in the leaf,"—and that they will remain in this peaceful state is more than presumable. An excuse (if none of the above are good enough) for their existence, which suggests itself at this point, is that a song has a few rights the same as other ordinary citizens. If it feels like walking along the left hand side of the street—passing the door of physiology or sitting on the curb, why not let it? If it feels like kicking over an ash can, a poet's castle, or the prosodic law, will you stop it? Must it always be a polite triad, a "breve gaudium," a ribbon to match the voice? Should it not be free at times from the dominion of the thorax, the diaphragm, the ear and other points of interest? If it wants to beat around in the valley, to throw stones up the pyramids, or to sleep in the park, should it not have some immunity from a Nemesis, a Rameses, or a policeman? Should it not have a chance to sing to itself, if it can sing?—to enjoy itself, without making a bow, if it can't make a bow?—to swim around in any ocean, if it can swim, without having to swallow "hook and bait" or being sunk by an operatic geryhound? If it happens to feel like trying to fly where humans cannot fly,—to sing what cannot be sung—to walk in a cave, on all fours,—or to tighten up its girth in blind hope and faith, and try to scale mountains that are not—Who shall stop it!

— In short, must a song always be a song!

C.E.I.